

NU Asks For $3 Million More Than Exon Recommended

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

The University of Nebraska Tuesday formally asked the Legislature to provide the institution with nearly $3 million more in state general funds than Gov. J. James Exon has recommended for 1973-74.

The university outlined its position at a four-hour Appropriations Committee hearing in the legislative chamber, where the committee heard an afternoon of testimony in favor of a bigger increase.

The hearing began with NU President D. B. Varner summarizing the university's concerns and formally seeking slightly more than $2.9 million more in general funds than the Exon administration would prefer.

It ended with John Mekota of Crete making an impassioned plea for a return in education to the "principles of the preamble" of the Constitution, which Mekota said have been abandoned by bureaucratic educational institutions.

Nearly two dozen others took the stand to suggest the university needs more state support than the 8% increase recommended by Exon.

Many were pressed by Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell to answer whether they would back the 8% urged by Exon, the 12% increase sought by the NU regents or something between.

Most of them said they would prefer 12%.

One of those appearing was State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who urged the Appropriations Committee to sponsor a constitutional amendment to let the people vote on whether tuition should be charged at state postsecondary schools.

Noting that the committee has raised tuition several times, Carpenter said: "You've been doing it every year since I've been here."

"I think it ought to stop."

Carpenter said he has always been bitter that his family didn't have the money to send him to college, and he said he's concerned that tuition charges may be pricing lower income students out.

"All you're doing is creating a caste system," he said, "supported by those who already have higher education."

The subject of tuition was one which came up repeatedly in the hearing, as university spokesmen and others approached the speakers' stand and said they objected to Exon's plan to increase tuition to levels higher than the new ones proposed by the Board of Regents.

Returning to the board's tuition proposal, in fact, was one of three "major concerns" outlined by Varner as he asked for restoration of most of the state general fund money that Exon has recommended cutting from the request.

The regents had asked for an increase from the current general fund appropriation of $47.5 million to $54.2 million. The governor recommended $50.7 million.

The governor's tuition increase, said Varner, would raise an additional $978,000 if the projections were met when students go to the campuses next year.

Adding to that "special area of concern," said Varner, were two more: Exon cuts in campus improvement money requests and his suggestion that $800,000 in cash funds be added to the Medical Center budget as an amount to be collected from the State Department of Public Welfare for welfare patients served at the university hospital.

"We're asking that you restore all improvement monies to the campuses," said Varner, and to transfer from the cash fund to the general fund the $1.7 million that represents the total to come from the previously uncollected physicians' fees for welfare patients and the additional tuition revenue.

Essentially, "you're asking for the original request," noted Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney.

"That's correct," said Varner.

That discussion led Committee Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings to ask if NU's "negotiations" with the governor "fell down."

"I thought you had arrived at a satisfactory figure," said Marvel. "Where did it fall down?"

"I heard too that we had reached an agreement" with the governor, said Varner, but he added, "That's a loose interpretation of our discussions."

While Whitney was seeking from many of the witnesses their views on the best rate of increase for NU, Marvel repeatedly asked Varner and the campus chancellors to provide the committee with a detailed explanation of the impact of the regents own $2 million cut in the original university administration proposal.

Sen. David Stahmer of Omaha also said he was interested in the $2 million cutback, which was initiated in the board discussions by Omaha Regent Kermit Hansen, who was at the time facing a reelection challenge from a conservative opponent.

Stahmer suggested the $2 million was an arbitrary cut by the board and "maybe for political purposes."

"I want to know what it will take," said Stahmer, to provide at the university the best possible opportunity for the young people of the state.

"That's the budget I presented to you two years ago, Sen. Stahmer," was Varner's reply, in reference to an NU request for a huge increase which was later scaled back considerably by the committee and the Legislature.

Although Varner also told the committee that he does not object to Exon's salary recommendations, which Varner said equal nearly 5 1/2% in total compensation, faculty spokesmen said they disagreed.

UNL Law Prof. Wallace Rudolph, president of the faculty senate, said "I violently disagree with President Varner that this pay increase is satisfactory."

Colin's Plan Questioned...

Orthopedic Hospital Proposal Opposed

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

A proposal by Lancaster County Board Chairman Robert Colin for the county to lease or purchase the old Orthopedic Hospital property at 11th and South drew some opposition from heads of some of the offices he proposes for possible location in the facilities.

Colin's plan calls for moving the county welfare offices and possibly the State Welfare Department into the old Orthopedic Hospital structure and also for building the proposed Juvenile Attention Center on the site.

Lancaster County Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert told The Star that the property isn't suited for welfare offices and "would be very inconvenient" as well as require considerable remodeling.

No Federal Funds

He also noted that federal funds might be available for building a new structure but not for purchase or remodeling of an old facility for possible welfare office use.

State Welfare Director Lawrence Graham said that the old Orthopedic Hospital "would be inadequate for the office space required for the Department of Public Welfare."

"Additionally, the building is in need of extensive repair and the cost of remodeling would be prohibitive," Graham said.

Shouldn't Be Attached

He also noted that it had been proposed that a joint facility might be used for the Lancaster County and State Welfare offices but that "the State Department's feeling is that it shouldn't attach itself to another facility in the event a new State Office Building is constructed."

Colin said that although he would favor leasing the facility which he feels would provide an "ideal setup" for location of the state and county welfare offices, the board might consider purchase if the price were satisfactory.

After a recommendation by the City-County Planning Department last week that the county not build the proposed Juvenile Attention Center at 13th and South adjacent to Lancaster Manor because of possible need for more space for the county nursing facility, the commissioners began seeking other possible sites.

State Government Shows High Employee Turnover

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

The odds are almost even that a state employee now earning $7,000 or less annually will not be on the state payroll a year and a half from now, according to a State Personnel Department survey.

State Personnel Director William E. Peters reported Tuesday that of the 9,000 employees earning $7,000 or less as of June 30, 1971, only 5,320 were still employed by the state as of Oct. 10, 1972.

That turn-over of 3,680 employees in a year and a half translates to a rate of 41%.

Variety Of Reasons

Those former employees, who Peters reported includes permanent, part-time and summer help, left for a variety of reasons including other jobs, retirement, dismissal and military service.

Still, Peters termed that turnover rate "unacceptable"; private businesses have a turnover rate that runs as low as 2%, Peters said.

He estimated that it cost the state $1.1 million over and above salaries just to recruit, test and train replacements for them. Peters based that on a $300 per employee replacement cost which he said is commonly accepted by scholars.

Peters added that he came upon the figures by accident. The figures came after Gov. J. James Exon asked Peters for information on how state employees earning less than $7,000 have fared since he took office.

Comparison Hard

"I began to go through records," Peters said, "and I realized that a comparison was difficult because almost 45% of the employees had left."

Exon currently has a proposed $7.3 million pay plan for 1973-74 for 13,722 state employees pending before the Legislature. According to the Department of Administrative Services (DAS), 9,102 employees, who now earn $7,000 or less would receive a pay raise averaging 7.5%. That percentage increase would be lower as income rises until the 32 employees under the state personnel system who make over $25,000 would receive less than a 1% raise.

Mud Hampers Work At Site Of Derailment

Nebraska's renowned mud made slow, sticky work of clearing the Rock Island Line track after four freight cars derailed near Rokeby early Tuesday. In the photo above tractors push over two freight cars in order to clear the track. Earlier the tractors had removed earth from behind the cars so they would topple. The four cars derailed

$200,000 Contributed Secretly

NEW YORK (AP) — A $200,000 cash contribution was secretly made to President Nixon's campaign last April, three days after a new law requiring public disclosure went into effect, according to papers filed in U.S. District Court on Tuesday.

The money came from a Nassau, Bahamas, bank allegedly controlled by Robert L. Vesco, a New Jersey financier whom the Securities and Exchange Commission accused last November of playing a leading role in the alleged looting of $224 million from Investors Overseas Services Ltd. Harry L. Sears, a lawyer who ran the Nixon campaign in New Jersey, told the SEC on Feb. 20 that he and the president of Vesco's International Control Corp. delivered the cash in person to Maurice Stans, the finance chairman of the Committee to Re-elect the President, on April 10, 1972, in Washington. The law went into effect on April 7.

A spokesman for the Nixon campaign committee said in Washington the $200,000 and a subsequent $50,000 contribution by Vesco had been returned last month to the financier.

The spokesman said the $200,000 was actually "made available to the committee in New York on April 6" but because of a "late change in plans ... it was not actually delivered until a few days later."

The Finance Committee to Reelect the President released a Jan. 31-dated letter to Vesco in which it said it was in the best interests of both parties to return the money. It cited the civil suit pending against Vesco and is business interests.

But the spokesman said, "Under the circumstances the money was constructively in the hands of the campaign committee" on April 6, the day before the new law went into effect.

The money had been transferred April 6 from Bahamas Commonwealth Bank to Barclay's Bank in New York and then driven under armed guard to International Controls headquarters, according to Sears' testimony.

Sears, whose testimony was made public Tuesday, also testified that at one point Edward C. Nixon, the president's brother, went to International Controls Corp. headquarters in Fairfield, N.J., to discuss the contribution.

Sears testified that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in early 1972 tried to setup a government meeting regarding the SEC's investigation of Vesco begun the previous year.

Vesco, 37, became chairman of IOS, the mutual fund empire founded by the Bernie Cornfeld, in January 1971, several months after he arranged a $5 million loan to the foundering empire.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, taking a stiff posture against delaying the second-round release of American prisoners of war, told Hanoi Tuesday it wants some 120 more U.S. POWs set free immediately.

President Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler accused Hanoi of violating a prisoner agreement with Washington. He said President Nixon had instructed Secretary of State William P. Rogers, attending a multinational Paris conference on Vietnam, to take up the matter with "the other side" on a most urgent basis.

The second batch of American POWs had been expected to be released at least a day ago but the transfer was delayed by North Vietnam.

Arguing that Hanoi has no choice but to set them free if it is to live up to its signed agreement, Ziegler said:

"It is now time for the other side immediately to release the next group of United States prisoners of war."

Asked how many prisoners should be returned in the second round, Ziegler cited the figure 120 but stressed he was using unofficial statistics.

In Paris, Rogers interrupted all Vietnam conference activities and sought an appointment with North Vietnam foreign minister Nguyen Duy Trinh to seek clarification for the delay in release of POWs.

Ziegler in accusing Hanoi of a show of bad faith, said:

"The release of American prisoners is an unconditional obligation of the cease-fire agreement. The agreement clearly states that these prisoners of war are to be released at a rate no slower than the rate of troop withdrawals of U.S. and allied forces. We have now withdrawn over half of our forces."

Asked how many men should be returned to keep pace with the pullout of American troops, Ziegler said his unofficial figures would indicate about 120.

Asked if the United States might slow down the withdrawal pace, Ziegler suggested Nixon will continue to "scrupulously observe" American obligations. However, other White House sources said it was possible the American pullout from South Vietnam might be slowed or halted if the prisoners are not quickly returned.

U.S. Demands Reds Honor Viet Peace Pact

SAIGON (AP) — The United States demanded on Tuesday night that North Vietnam and the Viet Cong honor the Vietnam peace agreement and stop stalling in the release of American prisoners of war.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation to the four-party Joint Military Commission said there is a standing offer to provide the North Vietnamese with an American airplane to go to Hanoi to pick up a list of American prisoners due to be released in the second full group.

As an alternative, he added, the United States is prepared to accept the second batch of prisoners without prior presentation of a list or to receive the list when the POWs are returned.

The United States had anticipated that roughly 140 more U.S. prisoners would be released about Tuesday. But the North Vietnamese said the second regular turnover will be postponed until resolution of their complaints over alleged violations of the peace agreement by the United States and American officials in Saigon and Paris said privately they expected the delay to be temporary. U.S. officials in Saigon said they viewed the North Vietnamese move as a propaganda ploy aimed at portraying Hanoi as an advocate of peace before an international conference in Paris while depicting Saigon and the United States as the chief violators of the cease-fire.

The White House spokesman said in Washington that President Nixon has asked Secretary of State William P. Rogers to demand an explanation of the delay from North Vietnamese officials "as a matter of the highest priority."

Rogers and the North Vietnamese foreign minister are in Paris for the international conference, called to seal the Vietnam peace agreement. Conference sources said they and the other 10 governments represented at the parley agreed

Tuesday on a system for reconvening to deal with any peace violations.

The Hanoi regime's chief spokesman in Saigon, Bui Tin, told newsmen the decision to hold up the next scheduled prisoner release was taken "reluctantly."

"But we want to see some decisive steps taken by the other side toward the consolidation of the peace," he added. "We have turned from a military to a peaceful fight. We want to turn over a new leaf in our relations with the Americans."

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong released 143 U.S. military and civilian prisoners Feb. 12 and Hanoi released another 20 Feb. 18 in a goodwill gesture after the visit to Hanoi of Henry A. Kissinger.

That left 422 U.S. military and civilian prisoners in North and South Vietnam and Laos.

The peace agreement signed in Paris Jan. 27 says only that American prisoners will be released by March 28, at a rate matching the rate of U.S. troop withdrawals. But Kissinger indicated he expected the POWs to be released in four roughly equal groups at two-week intervals.

It was that expectation, coupled with U.S. troop withdrawals now at the halfway point, that led Americans to anticipate release of the second batch of prisoners around Tuesday.

Rogers, Gromyko Shake

Disputes Imperil Conference

PARIS (P) — Disputes over a U.N. role and North Vietnam's halt in the release of American war prisoners imperiled the international Vietnam peace conference Tuesday. Secretary of State William P. Rogers suspended all his conference activities.

The disputes broke out after a morning in which the United States and Hanoi reported they had reached agreement on one important aspect of the 13-party meeting here to seal the Vietnam peace agreements signed a month ago.

At the same time the work of conference drafting experts also came to a halt because of a refusal of Communist delegates to sit down with representatives of the United Nations. These developments came as North Vietnam and the United States traded bitter charges over breaches of the uneasy cease-fire deal signed in Paris on Jan. 27. Rogers sought an urgent meeting with Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh of North Vietnam in order to have the intentions of the Hanoi government clarified over the prisoner release program.

Rogers was under President Nixon's orders to shelve all other conference business until the issue is resolved with Trinh. Aides reported they expected no firm developments before Wednesday.

Until the prisoner storm burst, the conferees here had been making good progress. On the second day of the talks North Vietnamese and U.S. spokesmen reported their delegations had reached a wide measure of accord in terms of the planned declaration.

Two compromises emerged. One provides for new international talks if the Vietnam peace is threatened. The other provides for the development of a link between the International Commission of Control and Supervision and the conference itself. The commission, made up of Canada, Indonesia, Poland and Hungary, has the task of checking against cheating in Vietnam by the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong.

Price Dip Seen If Supports End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department told Congress Tuesday that if price support programs are ended for major crops farm income will be sharply lower and thousands of a marginal farmers will be forced from the land.

Reporting to the Senate Agriculture Committee, the department said reversion to a nearly free market for goods would cause most production to increase, prices to drop and might lead to serious problems in dealing with crop failure or excess demand.

The report was requested by Chairman Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., after President Nixon suggested earlier this month many farm price support programs are "drastically out-dated."

The President said he believes the farmers' dependence on government payments must be reduced through increased returns from farm sales in the United States and overseas.

The basic farm programs expire at the end of the 1973 crop year and Talmadge said that if they are replaced by a free market system "hundreds of thousands of farm families would be driven from the land and into the major metropolitan centers."

Citing the Agriculture Department report and studies on the President's ideas by the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress, Talmadge said initial results would include enormous surpluses of farm commodities.

"In years of corn blight," he said, "bad weather or pestilence on the farm, long food lines might be formed in our cities because of shortages of food."

Talmadge called it "the rank-est form of discrimination" to insist American farmers survive in a free market when organized labor and business corporations are not compelled to do so.

"I am a conservative man," the Georgia Democrat said. "The idea of getting government out of Agriculture is basically very appealing to me. But I would be a traitor to the people of my state and nation if I were a participant in such a scheme."

Talmadge commented at the beginning of a series of committee hearings into new farm programs.

The Agriculture Department report dealt with the impact of eliminating production control and price support programs for wheat, feed grains, cotton and soybeans.

It said significant price recovery likely would follow initial sharp drops in the first few years.

But the report said it is by no means certain farm prices and incomes would have recovered by 1980 to the levels of recent years.

Green Named To Be Envoy To Australia

Washington (AP) — President Nixon said Tuesday he will nominate Assistant Secretary of State Marshall Green to be ambassador to Australia.

Green, a career State Department officer who has been involved in East Asian and Pacific affairs since May 1969, will succeed ambassador Walter L. Rice, who has resigned to return to private life.

Nixon also announced V. John Krehbiel, 67, a senior field underwriter for the Aetna Life and Casualty Co., from South Laguna, Calif., will be ambassador to Finland, succeeding Val Peterson, whose resignation was accepted. Krehbiel is a native of Kansas.

Peterson has been ambassador to Finland since May of 1969.

White House officials said the former three-term governor of Nebraska would return to private life.

Peterson was named ambassador to Denmark by President Eisenhower.

U.N. Group To Debate Air Tragedy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. aviation agency agreed Tuesday to look into Israel's shooting down of a Libyan airliner last week, and Arab delegates proposed a resolution condemning Israeli action in the tragedy.

Egypt's call for a debate won quick agreement at the opening session of a four-day assembly of the International Civil Aviation Organization. The meeting

Tuesday in the U.N. General Assembly chamber started with a moment of silence in memory of the 106 persons who perished when the jetliner was downed by Israeli warplanes Feb. 21 in the occupied Sinai Desert.

Arab delegates circulated a draft resolution in which the worldwide air traffic agency would condemn Israel for the shooting and at the same time order an immediate fact-finding investigation.

Israel agreed to a "calm and sober" investigation. But controversy was expected over condemnation of Israel when the issue is debated Wednesday.

The United States and several other Western countries were trying to temper the wording on aggravating the Middle East conflict. But countries critical of Israel have a commanding majority in the assembly.

Minuteman Given Parole

Washington (AP) — The founder of the right-wing Minuteman organization, Robert Bolivar DePugh, has been paroled and will be released from the U.S. Penitentiary in Atlanta April 30.

DePugh, 49, Norborne, Mo., was sentenced to nine consecutive 10-year sentences in September of 1970 for violation of the 1968 federal gun control law.

Whites-Only Policy Denied Swim Club

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hitting at segregation in private recreation facilities, the Supreme Court Tuesday denied a whites-only policy to a suburban swim club that gave preferred status to nearby residents.

The unanimous decision expanded a 1969 ruling that a Negro family that buys or rents a home in a subdivision must be allowed to use recreational facilities that come with the property.

Membership in the Wheaton-Haven Recreation Association—subject of Tuesday's ruling—was not automatically conferred upon neighborhood residents but, the court noted, residents within a three-quarter mile radius were given preference in membership and this conveyed a valuable property right to whites that was denied blacks.

"When an organization links membership benefits to residency in a narrow geographical area, that decision infuses those benefits into the bundle of rights for which an individual pays when buying or leasing within the area," wrote Justice Harry Blackmun for the court.

The association's swimming pool is located in well-to-do Montgomery County, Md., a suburb of Washington. Dr. Henry C. Press, a radiologist at Howard University Medical School here, and his wife were denied membership because of their race even though they lived within the preference area.

School Strike Settled

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor Frank Rizzo announced on Tuesday a settlement was reached in the eight-week-old strike by public school teachers with tentative agreement on a new four-year contract hammered out by President Nixon's top labor troubleshooter.

Rizzo said the $68.6-million package could be paid without any tax increase. Terms were not immediately disclosed.

The announcement apparently scuttled labor plans for a general strike Wednesday to support the embattled teachers by shutting down business and transportation in America's fourth largest city.

The teachers' walkout has lasted a total of 10 weeks and two days — three weeks at the start of the school term last September, and now in its eighth week since resuming Jan. 8.

Jury Hears Deposition For Lansky

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Overriding vigorous government objections, a federal judge Tuesday permitted a jury to hear a deposition from an Israeli doctor who said he advised reputed underworld financial wizard Meyer Lansky that travel could endanger his life.

U.S. District Court Judge James L. King allowed introduction of the deposition from Dr. Dov Palette of Tel Aviv after rejecting a defense motion for a directed verdict of innocent in Lansky's trial. He is charged with criminal contempt for willfully refusing to answer a Miami federal grand jury subpoena in March 1971.

The defense case is based on the contention that Lansky, 72, was too ill to make the trip to Miami from Tel Aviv, where he was living at the time.

In the deposition, the physician testified that Lansky visited him a half a dozen times between October 1970, and March 1971, complaining of chest and ulcer pains, insomnia and intense nervousness.

The doctor said Lansky told him in February 1971, prior to the grand jury subpoena that he wanted to travel to the United States and wanted a medical opinion.

"I told him travel could give him a heart attack," the physician testified.

Brightening the future with financial security

Thousands of people are in the dark about their future and how to plan for it. That's where we come in.

For 82 years, Woodmen Accident and Life has been helping individuals, families and businesses toward a brighter future—with a solid foundation of financial security.

In 1972, the Company achieved several important new records. Assets increased 9% to $111,603,000; life insurance in force grew 8% to $940 million; total income for the year exceeded $40 million; benefits paid or provided for amounted to $26.5 million, up 6.4%; and dividends paid policyholders increased to $2,324,000. In addition to the Mandatory Security Valuation Reserve of $844,000, the policyholder surplus at year-end was $11,699,000. Our investment return in 1972 was especially favorable—the net yield on invested assets (after investment expenses but before income taxes) was 5.88%. This substantially exceeds the estimated average return for the life insurance business as a whole. These investment earnings reduce the cost of insurance to our policyowners.

Woodmen Accident and Life is proud of its continuing contribution to the economy of Lincoln and all of the 29 states in which it operates. Its Home Office payroll exceeds $2,177,000 annually. In 1972, it purchased goods and services from Lincoln businesses amounting to $755,000. Federal, state and local taxes paid by the Company last year totaled $1,960,590. The Company's assets, while held in trust for policyowners, are productively invested in a wide variety of securities and mortgages. These insurance funds have helped hundreds of families to acquire their own homes and have stimulated sound industrial and commercial growth.

We look forward to 1973 with optimism as a year when the Company will make further progress in serving its policyowners well.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Thanks to a nice bit of blackmail by Lincoln's state senators, the voters of this city will be deciding in May the future form of our municipal government. Too bad the state senators didn't run for city office rather than the Legislature if they were so concerned about the problems of Lincoln.

State Senators Wally Barnett and Harold Simpson appeared before the City Council, telling that body that a legislative bill directing district election of councilmen would be withdrawn if the council put the question on its spring ballot. Judging legislative feelings to be in favor of the Lincoln district bill, the council took the option of local determination at the ballot box on the question.

Thus, voters on May 1 will decide for or against district nomination and election of members of the City Council. On April 3, voters will also decide on a proposal for a $4,000 annual council member salary as opposed to the current $20 per meeting attended.

We simply cannot believe that district representation would accomplish anything for the people of this city. On the other hand, it is a form of government with a host of possible liabilities.

If the city councils of Lincoln past and present have one distinguishing characteristic of representation, it is economic, not geographic. By virtue of residence, there may be a geographic characteristic but it has been a meaningless thing, regardless of what the critics say.

There simply are no facts to support the theory that any section of Lincoln has been treated more poorly than another in terms of municipal services.

What might make a difference in terms of overall actions of government is the economic status of the vast majority of the council and the mayor. Very seldom does a mayor or member of the council come from anything other than the middle or upper income levels of the community.

Thus, the thinking of both legislative and administrative leadership is going to reflect an attitude more typical of higher than lower income families and individuals. This is a little tough to prove through the citation of specific actions but we suspect that it would show up in any long-range analysis of local government.

The fallacy of going to district representation is that such a system is not likely to change the economic complexion of the council. Who do you think will be elected from the various districts if such a plan is adopted?

The odds are, just as they are now with at-large elections, that district representatives will be from the middle and upper income groups of the individual districts.

This may not be good but it comes about because of a few very simple facts of life. It is from the middle and upper income groups that you usually find the better known people of an area and, therefore, those most likely to come out ahead in a popularity contest on the ballot.

Those from higher income groups are frequently in a position to be better known because of being prominent in some career capacity and perhaps from having the time to take more than average time for community affairs.

Additionally, those from the middle and upper income groups have greater financial capacity to seek public office. All this will happen just as easily and frequently with districts as with at-large representation.

District election may look good in theory but we hope the people of Lincoln take the time to think very carefully about the overall quality and integrity of the government they have had before they buy a bird in the bush.

Premier Golda Meir Plans American Visit In March

WASHINGTON — When President Nixon posed for pictures with Jordan's King Hussein in the White House Oval Office on Feb. 6, he said: "This is sort of Mideast moment. You today, Mrs. Meir in March." That probably was an understatement. Now that American involvement in the Vietnam war has ended, 1973 may turn out to be Mideast year. The President is on record as saying that the festering crisis in the region will have "a very high priority" during his second term.

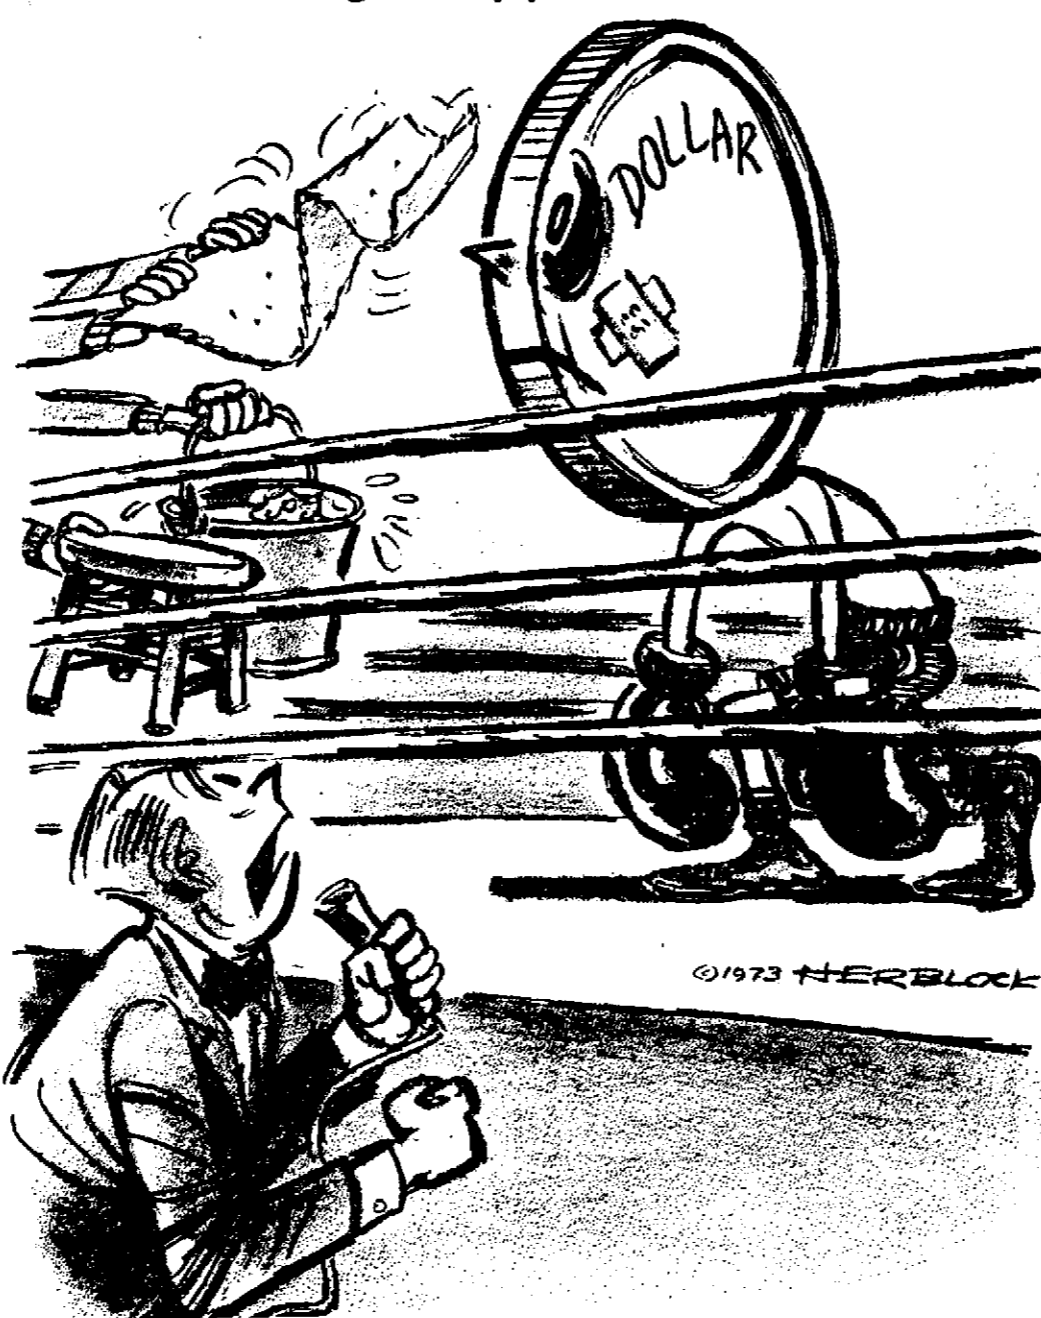

Peace in the Middle East remains as elusive as it did for so long in Indochina. Neither Israel nor any of its Arab antagonists seems eager to make the first move. As a result, an uneasy stalemate prevails, satisfactory to no one.

Most observers agree that the dispute between Israel and Egypt is the most intractable element of the crisis. Hussein, however, contends that "the Jordan problem is the most difficult one to solve. Egypt and Syria have land under occupation, but this land is not a part of Palestine and has no religious sites comparable in significance to those in Jerusalem."

The purpose of Israeli Premier Golda Meir's forthcoming visit to the United States is the same as that of previous visits — to seek reassurance of continued American support of her country. "One of the most important things the U.S. has done is to keep this area out of a shooting war," she said in an interview last December. "President Nixon has accepted the principle that the best guarantee for no shooting is to have Israel strong enough so that our neighbors will hesitate to start shooting."

'Groggy, But Still On His Feet After Being Dropped Twice ...'

Another Zoning Give-Away

The City Council this week made another cockeyed zoning decision, giving the developer just what he asked for but not thinking in terms of what is good for the character of the entire area over the long haul.

The council approved highway commercial zoning for land on the northeast and southeast corners of the intersection of NW 48th, the road that leads to Lincoln Air Park West, and I-80. Most of the land adjacent to the intersection and in the immediate area was zoned for rural and public use before the zoning change.

The proposed development is suitable enough—a motel and restaurant on one corner and a motel and an independent service area including a service station and related retail shops on the other. The developer could have gotten by with highway service zoning rather than H-2 highway commercial. The more restrictive H-S zoning would have required him to put his proposed retail shops on the one corner all under one roof with the motel unit, but we don't think that would have made him suffer too much.

POWs Still Pawns

The schedule called for a second large group of American prisoners of war to be released from captivity this week, which marks the beginning of the second month of the Vietnam war cease-fire.

Hanoi has called a temporary halt to the release of POWs, however, claiming that the U.S. is interested only in getting its own men back while overlooking other parts of the agreement signed in Paris in late January. For the prisoner freeze to be lifted, Hanoi said, the U.S. must force South Vietnam to live up to the cease-fire agreement and return communist civilian and military prisoners simultaneously and guarantee improved working conditions for the four-party Joint Military Commission. A spokesman said the government of North Vietnam understands the feelings of the American POWs and the families who await them, "but we must also think of the families of Vietnamese prisoners and of the millions of Vietnamese who are hoping for peace that they expect to come through strict application of the Paris peace agreement."

There's no doubt that most Americans, in the

He asked for—and received from a willing council majority against the advice of the Planning Commission—highway commercial zoning which would allow for the proposed independent service area with shops having entrances separate from the motel. This in itself is not objectionable.

But the H-2 highway commercial zoning district also permits the development of bottling works, sale barns, used car lots, auto repair garages, farm implement shops, truck terminals, coal yards and so forth.

The developer who asked for the zoning change didn't ask for any of those things. He just wanted commercial zoning to make things easier for his motel plans. But the give-away City Council, apparently without caring about what might happen to the character of the land in question, went along with the developer and in the process made all the other things possible in the future. The council—except for Helen Boosalis who voted against the H-2 zoning and Steve Cook, who was absent—just might have started "building another Cornhusker Hwy." as Mrs. Boosalis put it.

relief and joy of seeing their POWs returned, ignore the fact that the allies have taken their share of prisoners, too, and that they are to be repatriated. There have been thousands of communists, millions of Vietnamese, separated from their families by years of war.

But we suspect there is something more to this than merely an appeal to have the cease-fire agreement applied with an even hand. The American POWs are being used as pawns again by Hanoi to insure communists in the south the best possible position during the continuing conflict which probably will post-date American withdrawal from active participation in the war.

By playing around with the prisoners again, Hanoi takes the chance of losing much of the support there was in this country for U.S. participation in a post-war Indochina aid program and specifically, aid to North Vietnam. The program of aid and rebuilding is what leaders from all sides hope will ultimately, if anything can, bring that continuing conflict to an end.

MARQUIS CHILDS

The Ellsberg-Russo Trial

as it has been marshalled in this case.

As a manifestation of that power, the defense has just charged the prosecution with deliberately withholding a document that would have refuted testimony on the damage done to national security by release of the Pentagon study of decision-making during the Vietnam war. The document was an affidavit by an analyst for the Central Intelligence Agency stating that figures giving communist strength at the time of the Tet offensive in 1968 had been fabricated in December of 1967.

Yet, no one can doubt that if Ellsberg and Russo are convicted on one or more of the 15 counts of the indictment and their conviction upheld by the Supreme Court, the shadow of secrecy and suppression will be felt at every level of government. With the jailing of reporters for refusing to disclose confidentiality of sources—with two notable cases here in California—state courts are beginning to close their doors to the coverage of trials that would normally be open. Those most concerned with keeping the channels open describe it as a contagion of suppression.

What is most impressive in the great gray cliff of the Federal Courts Building here is the power of the federal government

000 in the hole. Chief defense counsel Leonard B. Bouding has three associates and Russo has two lawyers. A small army of researchers and secretaries does the spade work. Money to foot the bill is raised by a variety of fund-raising devices always falling behind the need.

The prosecution having presented the case against the defendants in two months, the defense now takes over. Six to seven weeks will be taken up with a procession of witnesses who will testify not only that no damage was done to the national security but that Ellsberg and Russo served the right to know in exposing the bland optimism of the decision-makers in public as contrasted with their continuous escalation of the war.

The service to the nation in the revelation of the Pentagon

Papers, the defense will contend, is to show the catastrophe of secret and private presidential wars — in this case, an unwinnable war that divided the nation, alienated world opinion and threatened at times a third world holocaust. In a sense the verdict will be passed on the war itself, those who prosecuted it and those who opposed it.

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

March first! I thought it would never come but having grown up in meadowlark country, I know that fair weather is near at hand. How do I know? I counted no fewer than thirty larks flitting about the orchard this morning and singing their spring aria. It sounded like lyrical bells heralding spring. "Your green petticoat's a' showin'!" they shrilled. I know full well they are singing about the green of spring although I have not gone out to investigate myself. However, I have seen green-tinted areas of grass where the banks of snow have protected it all winter.

The mounds of decaying leaves are moist from the winter snows but even they give a tang to the air. A combination of fertile earth and rain in the wind will slowly color the landscape, bringing forth the first delicate yellow-green of willow boughs, then the enlarging buds of apple trees.

My hope for the change of season is to see the sun emerge to shine for more than an hour at a time . . . full, bright days of warming sunlight.

This morning when the sun shone, it turned the wet boughs to a silver. Droplets of water clung and glistened like heavy drops of syrup dripping from a spoon, each droplet a small prism in itself.

The fields and lane steam and there is a great halo of steam that covers the pond making it look almost as if it were fogged in, keeping its secrets well hidden in the deep water.

All of the Angus cows and calves have been sold now. The Farmer had planned to have them all sold by the first of March. Had they marketed a week earlier, we would have had the two that were killed loaded into the truck, too . . . extra cash to help meet the needs of farm expense this spring.

Sometime in the future the cattle will be replaced by a younger herd. It will give the pastureland a chance to grow and renew itself this summer for it has been grazed for so many years.

One should never dispose of any item for just as surely as he does, he needs it.

Every so often when I clean the cupboards, I discard coffee cans if no use has been made of them within a certain length of time. Now I am in need of two one-pound coffee cans.

I wanted to make Boston brown bread yesterday. The recipe sounded so good and I thought it would be a nice change for this time of year. However, when I assembled all the ingredients and the big kettle for steaming the brown bread, I found I did not have enough coffee cans. The recipe was large enough to make four loaves. I thought I would freeze a couple of them and bring them out later. However, I had to delay my baking for I had only two coffee cans and could not find another can about the same size. It was not long ago that I tossed out several cans this size.

Several farm wives have ordered their baby chicks. One lady is getting started chicks for the last week of March and another for the first week in April.

Most of the chickens raised on the farms today are dressed early in the season . . . the spring chickens of other years, so to speak. With the deep freezers in almost all farm homes, the chickens can be kept easily in top condition.

Very few farms keep laying hens over winter. Egg prices long ago made keeping large flocks of laying hens unprofitable.

When we began life on the farm many years ago, we had our young chicks in February. This made them come into egg production early in the fall when egg prices were a few cents higher. We also began eating tender fries in early summer.

At first when we bought chickens over the counter, we thought them to be very poor, indeed, compared to the firmer-meated and tastier "home-grown" variety. But one can get used to anything if he lives long enough or else it is a matter of forgetting. We always buy our chickens now and rarely compare them, although I still must say they just don't raise chickens as flavorful and good as we did years ago.

Letters To The Editor

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that need-less details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by the writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials at the editor's discretion.

Help For All

Lincoln, Neb.

At this point in time, we have pioneering doctors in Omaha and women who request such procedures. Due to a number of restrictions, these abortions generally cost between $300 and $400. A safe therapeutic abortion can be obtained in New York or California, on an out-patient basis, for $125 transportation. Therefore, obtaining abortion in New York or California is still cheaper than obtaining such procedure in the state of Nebraska.

It would seem that our present abortion practices in this state are geared to middle-class women. It is possible for those of us who do problem pregnancy counseling to obtain free abortions in New York or California, but our clients still must find the money for transportation. When a therapeutic abortion is done in an out-patient clinic with a local anesthetic on a short-term basis, the cost is greatly lowered.

If people in the medical profession, as in the counseling profession, claim their primary desire is to help those in need, it would seem we need a radical revision in our policies toward women of low economic standards.

A woman on welfare with no husband and with five children, subsisting on ADC and a minimum wage in her job finds herself pregnant and unable to obtain the money to carry this pregnancy to term or to support another child; should she subtract $350 from the cost of feeding her children to obtain a therapeutic abortion? I think it's time we were totally honest about our concern for those in need — it is for our own economic gain — is it because of our concern for the underprivileged — is our concern for our own professional reputation?

We appreciate the pioneers in the medical field, but we would also wish as pioneers that they would follow policies of helping all human beings, not just those who have the money to "pay the piper."

Suggested Steps

Sutton, Neb.

The recent Supreme Court ruling on abortion legislation has arbitrarily denied to the unborn the legal protection of his life. Since we Christians have the duty before God to help protect our neighbor's life, we urge the following positive steps for those who want to see this horrible abortion decree reversed.

(1) Write the Supreme Court justices expressing politely and firmly your disapproval of their decision. Urge them to hear another pending abortion case, "Byrn vs. New York City Health and Hospitals, Inc." This is perhaps the best argued case against abortion and the justices could, if they hear it, reverse their decision.

(2) Write to our U.S. representatives and senators and ask them to support a constitutional amendment guaranteeing the life of the unborn. Representative Lawrence Hogan (R., Maryland) has introduced such an amendment.

(3) Telephone a message to President Nixon urging him to make a strong public statement against this ruling and to support the constitutional amendment. You may leave a one-minute message for him at the message center (1-202-456-1414) for 20 cents between 11:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m.

(4) Urge your friends to take these same actions.

The Wanted Child

Lincoln, Neb.

Friends hold all human life precious because of its potential for growth toward the likeness of God. To achieve that potential, a child needs the security of being loved and wanted in a home. Yet children are born to neglect and abuse, denied the elemental right of being welcomed to life. Others are doomed even before birth to defective mental capacity or hopeless crippling.

Because no law can cover all cases, we feel the decision to terminate a pregnancy should be left to the consciences of parents and their doctors.

Abortion as a method of birth control seems miserable to us. Preventing the conception of an unwanted child is much more to be desired, and for that reason we feel contraceptive information should be made available to all who seek it.

The population crisis is such that we must bring resources and population into balance. Studies show that if only those children are born who are wanted and lovingly planned for, this balance will be achieved.

Good Cat-Fight

Lincoln, Neb.

I think The Star erred in sending a sports reporter to the ERA testimony hearing, as that is certainly how the hearing was reported in the morning paper.

As it was repeatedly stated by both pros and cons, this issue needs to be brought to the people clearly, succinctly and objectively to disentangle the facts from the emotionalism with which it has been clouded.

The Star's reporting left little to the education of the issues by neglecting the meat of the hearing and came across, as Anne Trombley in her testimony stated with superb dry satire: "There's nothing like a good cat-fight . . . is there!"

Class Rating

Seward, Neb.

Seward's rating in Class B is pitiful. Ranking Crete No. 1 and Seward No. 4 is wrong. Seward beat Crete, so Seward should move up in the ranks.

When Seward played Fairbury, they went up in the ranks because they played a good game. They should go up even more because of beating Crete.

Victory Is Predicted By Lynch

DUBLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Jack Lynch called on Tuesday for decisive backing in Ireland's national elections and predicted he will get back to office with a working majority.

Lynch told news conference he expects to win 75 or 76 seats in the 144-seat Dail, the lower house in Wednesday's balloting. That would put his Fianna Fail — Soldiers of Destiny — government firmly in power for a five-year term.

Lynch is opposed by a coalition of Fine Gael — Irish party — and the union-backed Laborites. Both sides are offering the 1.8 million voters big boosts in social welfare benefits. The main argument is how much it will all cost.

Irish elections are traditionally unpredictable. Most pundits say that after 16 years of Lynch's party the electorate may feel it is time for a change.

Erlangen, Germany (AP) — An ambulance rushing an elderly heart patient to the hospital collided with a car at an intersection, police reported. The patient and the doctor, a young woman, were killed.

CIA Costs Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fresh look at the cost-effectiveness of the Central Intelligence Agency has been underway in the weeks since James R. Schlesinger took over as its chief.

One of the questions being asked, sources say is whether it is necessary to spend all that money on clandestine operations now that the government says it has adopted a policy of becoming less involved in the internal affairs of other countries. No one will say just how much money is being spent.

Schlesinger, 43, former Atomic Energy Commission chairman, became head of the CIA on Feb. 5, succeeding Richard Helms, now U.S. ambassador to Iran.

The cease-fire in Laos may offer the opportunity for a sharp reduction in CIA costs. Under terms of the agreement, all foreign forces are to be withdrawn within 90 days, and this includes the CIA-financed Thai volunteers, who have been fighting on behalf of the Laotian government.

Terrorists Plan Hijack, Says Rep. Murphy

Washington (UPI) — The terrorist Black September group is planning to hijack an airliner, probably in the United States, to try to win release of some Arab political prisoners, Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., said Tuesday.

He said an alert was being issued by the Federal Aviation Administration.

SONY TRINITRON Color TV

"Color Bright"... vibrant, exciting, true-to-life color describes Sony's KV-1212 Color TV. The 12" (measured diagonally) screen is big-enough-for-family viewing and just right for any room in your home... with a sharp, bright, "color right" picture. This is made possible by Sony's unique TRINITRON color system which has one BIG color gun instead of three smaller guns used in conventional color sets. The KV-1212 sports a "set-and-forget" automatic color and fine tuning control, lighted channel indicators, dependable, all solid-state circuitry, instant picture and sound, plus a front mounted speaker. All neatly packaged in a styled-for-today walnut finished cabinet.

ANNOUNCING THE '73 DODGE COLT

'Til now, little Japanese imports have had to depend on their own dealerships in the U.S. for parts and service. Now comes Dodge Colt, imported from Japan, but sold, serviced, and backed by Dodge, coast to coast.

Many imports that come to America come with one very real problem: how to provide parts and service on a nationwide basis.

Put another way: once the car gets here, who's going to take care of it?

'Til now, Japanese imports have pretty much had to rely on the dealerships they themselves set up in the U.S.

But now comes an import with a different way of doing things. An import that comes from Japan to America

c/o Dodge

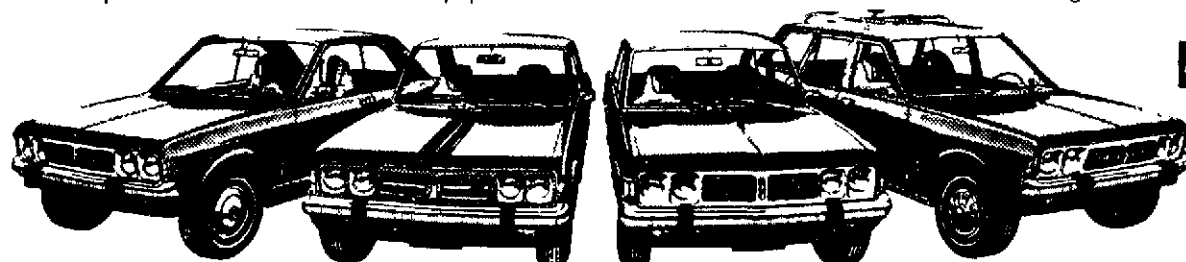

The Colt is sold and serviced and backed to the hilt by a network of Dodge Colt Dealers that stretches from one side of the U.S. to the other.

Which means that though the Colt may be built over 5,000 miles away, it'll be cared for by a man who's right around the corner.

And speaking of being built, wait! If you see what Colt comes with as standard equipment

- Front disc brakes
- Reclining bucket seats (except on coupe)
- Overhead cam hemi engine
- Four-speed transmission (we think it's the best in the industry)
- Hidden radio antenna
- Easy-to-care-for vinyl upholstery
- Plus a lot of other things you'd expect on a little car

Innovative Project Ideas Given School Board OK

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday evening gave its stamp of approval to two innovative project proposals which, if funded, could eventually alter considerably the nature of secondary education in the city.

The action came during a meeting at East High School, one of the schools seeking funds under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). The other is Mickie Junior High.

In another matter, the board voted to alter the calendar it had approved previously for the 1973-74 year. The changes chiefly compress the school year providing for a completion before June 1, 1974.

$200,000 Sought

In the two Title III projects, the schools will be seeking from the State Department of Education funds totaling more than $200,000 next year to begin new approaches to secondary school life.

The state department is the dispenser of the federal funds.

At East High, the proposal for $104,837 in the first year of a three-year project would begin implementation of what is called a "learning community school model."

The "school-within-a-school" concept would call for dividing the high school into learning communities of 12 to 15 teachers and 240 to 300 students each.

Within each community, a teacher would serve as an advisor to about 20 students.

Personal Attention

The teacher-advisor will plan a program with each student and his parents which will be designed around his own educational goals and will take

Students At Tech School Score Well

The board of the Lincoln Technical College was told Tuesday evening that students in the college's practical nursing and dental assisting programs continue to score well on certifying examinations.

The report came to the board as it met Tuesday evening at Lincoln's East High School.

Tech College administrators said the reports indicate that local programs are successfully training students for the exams they must pass to qualify in the two fields.

In 17 classes of practical nursing students since 1963, the report showed, only one of 474 students has failed to make the minimum score of 350 points.

The Lincoln mean score in 1971-72 was 606, compared with a state mean of 568 and a national mean of 516. There are a total of nine practical nursing programs in the state.

In the dental assisting program, students ranked close to the 90% mark in norms on each of three tests the students must complete.

The board also heard a report on 1972-73 enrollments, which showed that 719 students are enrolled in full-time programs in the winter quarter, compared with 631 in the fall quarter.

In adult programs, 3,341 were enrolled in the fall.

In matters calling for action, the board approved submitting grant proposals for programs in community health care and library resources.

The health care program, if funded by the Hospital Research and Education Trust of Chicago, would help the school provide continuing education for a variety of community hospital and other health care institution employees.

Car Destroyed In Garage Fire

A fire Tuesday night at the Delbert Crouse residence at 4413 Gladstone resulted in "considerable" damage to a garage and its contents, according to District Fire Chief Gene Fenner.

Fenner said the fire apparently started from a light bulb hung in a barrel to keep a dog warm. The dog was killed in the blaze.

A recent model car parked in the garage was a total loss.

Fenner said the fire, which was reported by a neighbor boy, Craig Lowe of 3340 No. 44th, took 15 to 20 minutes to bring under control.

into account the student's need for direction, his learning style, his learning abilities, interests, basic skills, reading skills and academic competence," said a summary of the project distributed to board members.

A major part of the idea, said East High Principal James Hoge, is to insure that every student gets concerted attention from a teacher with closely matched interests.

Hoge said the proposal, which totals some 338 pages, is a reflection of a two-year study by East High of how the school might reorganize itself to better suit the needs and interests of the students and the teachers and involve the community to a greater degree.

The project would mean a "total organizational change," he said.

One Other School

The concept to be employed is used in only one other school in the U.S., he said, although he said various aspects of the plan are embodied in innovative projects in several cities.

At Mickie Junior High, teachers are seeking $98,737 in the first year to begin to relate research on how adolescents learn with how schools are organized and students taught.

The new calendar, approved by a 3 to 2 vote, would end school on May 31 in 1974. The calendar had sparked complaints from teachers who thought the original one too long.

The new one compresses the length of the school year, cutting back one of the student days off.

at state basketball tournament time and wiping out entirely another off-day in the middle of the year.

On another matter, the board approved a plan to provide summer school for handicapped children and at the same tuition rate charged other youngsters.

$15,000 Subsidy

Supt. John Frisch said if all the classes projected are realized, the board subsidy of the entire summer school for handicapped pupils would total about $15,000.

He said programs are envisioned for hard-of-hearing students, physically and mentally handicapped, emotionally disturbed and youngsters with speech problems.

Transportation for the students would also be provided on the same basis as for others. The policy for summer school permits busing of children at their cost when enough students to make a route need transportation.

The board approval will mean the schools will provide for the first time a major offering of summer programs for the handicapped.

Lincoln Youth Hangs Himself

A Lincoln youth died Tuesday night of an apparent suicide, police reported.

Police said John Wiedman Jr., 19, of 1821 So. Pershing, was found dead by his family after he hanged himself with his belt over a closet door.

Salvador Allende

Contract Cancelled By Allende

Santiago, Chile (AP) — President Salvador Allende cancelled Tuesday a long-standing contract between International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. and the Chilean government to administer the Chilean Telephone Co.

Allende, in legislation published in the official diary, said the contract was being cancelled "in the public interest."

The cancellation is a formality because the Chilean telephone system has been in government hands for more than a year since a "temporary" take-over for alleged bad management.

Foreign Aid Funding Extended To June 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed Tuesday to extend stop-gap funding for foreign aid until June 30, the end of the current fiscal year.

The Senate had voted to impose a new April 30 deadline, to allow time for consideration of a new foreign aid authorization bill for fiscal 1973.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark. of the Senate Appropriations Committee said the Senate yielded regretfully to the House on the difference in date in a "continuing" appropriation resolution, with a statement that it is not to be a precedent for funding unauthorized programs.

The same resolution extends funding for Labor and Health Education and Welfare department programs until the end of the fiscal year, in place of twice vetoed regular appropriation bills for the two departments.

Chairman George Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee said the House group insisted on the June 30 extension to give both the administration and Congress the chance to close the books on fiscal 1973 appropriations and get started on the budget for the next year starting July 1.

Also, he said, an earlier deadline would open the way for discussion of reconstruction aid to North Vietnam before complete American withdrawal and the return of prisoners.

"This is not the time for that," he asserted.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in approving a new 1973 foreign military aid authorization bill Monday, attached an amendment banning any aid to North Vietnam without specific approval of Congress.

The committee also attached an amendment to bar foreign aid spending unless funds imposed by the President for domestic programs are released by April 30.

Other amendments dealing with executive agreements for overseas bases duplicated controversies that deadlocked the authorization bill in House-Senate conference last year.

Boulders Erupt In Earth Quirk

ELK CITY, Okla. (AP)—Geological authorities were preparing a full scale probe Tuesday to determine what caused a batch of boulders to erupt in a pasture, and the curious were warned to stay away in case of another earth quirk.

"We are warning everybody to stay away from the area because it is potentially dangerous out there," said Beckham County Sheriff Howard Sampler. "For their own protection and protection of the land owner, we are sealing off the pasture."

The boulders, some of them 20 feet tall and weighing more than 30 tons, burst through the ground overnight about a week ago in the previously smooth pasture south of this far western Oklahoma city. Smaller rocks were strewn over a half-acre site, cracks were opened in the earth and trees were tilted at a 45-degree angle.

The eruption apparently was unnoticed until the land owner came back to feed his cattle, and authorities then tried to keep news of the event a secret.

"There was some kind of explosion," Dr. Charles Mankin, director of the Oklahoma Geological Survey in Norman, said Tuesday. "It was an underground occurrence, not an impact-type thing like a meteor or anything like that."

"We honestly don't know at this time what happened. Some kind of investigation is warranted and we are contacting state agencies which would handle such an investigation."

Mankin said it was unknown at present what caused the blast.

"It could have been from a natural process or it could have been from a man-made cause," he said. "We are not ruling out either one. We do know that there was some type of underground explosion and that it all happened within the last few days."

Dr. Robert Fay of the Geological Survey office, who spent the weekend in the area, said the boulders are "red sand rock common to the area."

Elk City is in the center of activity for drilling ultra-deep oil and gas wells, some of them as much as five miles into the earth.

Authorities said the man who owns the land had fed his cattle Feb. 16, and at that time the pasture was smooth and grassy. He was confronted by the boulders and a rock-covered area when he returned a few days later.

Ted Dewey Files For Ed Board

T. E. (Ted) Dewey, president of the Havelock Bank, filed for election to the Lincoln Board of Education in the Lancaster County election commissioner's office Tuesday.

Dewey, 34, of 7641 Leighton, is presently serving on the board, having been appointed last November to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Lincoln businessman Robert Magee.

Dewey is a graduate of Northeast High School and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He holds a graduate degree from the University of Wisconsin Graduate School of Banking.

In 1970 he was named president of the Havelock Bank after working 10 years for banks in Omaha.

Dewey is a member of the legislative committee of the Nebraska Bankers Association, president of the Northeast YMCA Board, a member of the Northeast Sertoma Club and the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council.

He and his wife Kay have four children.

Three Board of Education seats are up for election May 1st. The filing deadline for the April 3rd primary is March 14th.

Ellsberg, Russo Committed No Crime—Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A defense attorney, opening the defense case in the Pentagon papers trial, told jurors Tuesday that Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo will not seek to prove that they had the right motives for committing crimes, but rather will stress that no crimes were committed.

Attorney Leonard Weinglass, delivering his opening statement in behalf of Russo, said: "The government is attempting to bend and distort the laws."

He said the defendants will prove that espionage, conspiracy and theft statutes currently in law books do not cover the act which Ellsberg and Russo are alleged to have committed.

Weinglass concluded his opening statement by revealing to jurors that Russo would take the stand in his own defense and that witnesses would include members of Congress who sought to gain access to the Pentagon Papers in 1969.

He said Russo would tell how he "gave his talents" to the Rand Corp. as a researcher on government projects and how he "came to realize that what the government needed was not only the talents of its young men, but their courage as well."

He said the congressmen would tell how they tried to get the Pentagon Papers for use in their efforts to "right the ship that had temporarily gone astray on the reef of Vietnam."

He said the evidence would show the defendants hoped to give the papers to Congress and, rather than defrauding the government as charged, they were trying to "end the defrauding of Congress."

The defense then called as its first witness retired Rear Adm. Gene LaRocque, now director of the privately funded Center for Defense Information in Washington, D.C.

"The defense will present evidence," Weinglass told jurors, "not to prove that a crime has been committed which you should excuse because you agree with the motives. Our case rather will be that no crime occurred."

Ellsberg, 41, and Russo, 36, are charged in connection with the release of the Pentagon's top-secret study of the Vietnam war to news media. The government sought to show in its case that release of the documents could have harmed national defense and aided a foreign power.

Weinglass told jurors the defense case will prove that the Pentagon papers had no relation to national defense when they were copied in 1969 or any time thereafter.

"The presentation of our case will concentrate on that central and key issue which is the core of this trial, whether this information related to the national defense," he said.

That requirement particularly is "the one essential that is necessary for triggering the espionage act ..." Weinglass added.

Soroptimist Honorees Named

Wednesday, Feb. 28 The Lincoln Star 17

MISS VICKI JONES

MISS MARGARET MAR

MISS JANET MARK

LINDA OLIG

Three high school seniors will be honored by the members of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln at a recognition dinner to be held this evening at Hotel Radisson-Cornhusker.

The three honorees, all semi-finalists in the Soroptimist Foundation Youth Citizenship Awards Program for 1973, will be Miss Vicki V. Jones, a Lincoln High School student, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle M. Jones; Miss Margaret F. Mar, Northeast, the daughter of Jimmy Mar and the late Mrs. Mar; and Miss Janet L. Mark, Southeast, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chaffee.

Guest speaker for the annual recognition dinner, at which the three semi-finalists will be presented cash awards of merit, will be Capt. Stanley M. Heng, department adjutant and military department coordinator for the Learning Exchange Program of the National Guard. The LEX program allows high school students to participate in work experience training at the Nebraska National Guard facilities.

The Soroptimist Federation's youth citizenship awards were established in 1961 as a means of recognizing outstanding contributions by young persons and to encourage youth to develop the highest concept of patriotism and more effective cooperation in home, community, national, and international affairs.

The students were selected for the honors on the basis of dependability, cooperation, and consideration in the various aspects of his or her home and community — as well as a demonstration of leadership ability and responsibility, and the pursuit of selected endeavors with a clear sense of purpose.

According to her application, Miss Jones, who has long been involved in potentiality development, plans to attend the University of Nebraska where she will major in French. Miss Mark, who recently served as Honored Queen of Job's Daughters, will enroll in Nebraska Wesleyan University where she will be a student in mathematics and secondary physical education. Miss Mar plans to study sociology at Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah.

The three high school seniors were selected by a panel of judges which included Mrs. William H. Hasebrook, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the current communications consultant for the National Dividend Foundation; Miss Lynne Greer, society editor for the "Lincoln Star"; and County Judge Jeffrey P. Cheuvront.

Mrs. Lawrence L. Tomsyck and Mrs. Ernest L. Ruhter are members of the local organization's youth citizenship committee which conducted the awards program.

Mrs. Alvin V. Ginger, a mother of four children, recently was named the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln's finalist in the Foundation's Training and Re-Training Awards Program, locally nicknamed "Women Helping Women."

The announcement was made by Mrs. Hugo F. Srb, president of the local club, and Mrs. Donald Downing, chairman of the club's service objectives committee.

Mrs. Ginger, a graduate of Omaha North High School, attended St. Andrew's School of Nursing in Bottineau, N.D., and she currently is a student at the University of Nebraska where she is pursuing a degree in social work.

Judging the nine applicants entered in the competition were Mrs. J. James Exon, wife of the Nebraska governor; Dr. Anne M. Campbell, director of public affairs for the University of Nebraska System; and Paul Jensen, assistant manager and program director for KOLN-TV.

In its first year, the Training and Re-Training Awards Program makes available, through the Soroptimist Foundation, $2,000 annually to each of the 17 Soroptimist regions — and the funds are to be used for two training awards of $1,000 each. For participation in the program, a club may nominate women who need to meet changing demands in employment, wish to enter the job field, or wish to upgrade their skills with the hopes of advancement.

Mrs. Ginger's name will be entered in regional competition, and the regional award will be presented at the spring conference to be hosted by the Lincoln Club in April.

An Evening Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Lynn Ann Spaulding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Spaulding of Vancouver, Wash., and William John Wesslund of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Wesslund of North Platte, took place on Friday evening, Feb. 23, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Lincoln. Msgr. John J. Flynn solemnized the 7 o'clock ceremony.

The foursome of the bride's attendants included Miss Linda Wagner of Creighton, the maid of honor; bridesmaids Miss Kristin Wesslund of North Platte, and Miss Marcia Kelly, and bridesmatron, Mrs. Jack Gleason.

Douglas Hamer served as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers were Robert Wesslund, Robert Van Cleave, David Wesslund, Tom Kamind, both of Omaha; Gary Please, David Nixon and David Huneke.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white angel mist, designed in the Gibson Girl mode. The fitted bodice was patterned with lace in a pinafore motif, and the lace fashioned the high, standup collar and cuffed the long full sleeves. Beneath the slender waistline the A-line skirt was floor-length and was bordered at the hemline with a wide ruffle of the lace.

ABBY: they should earn way

DEAR ABBY: During our 30 years of married life, I worked two jobs so as to provide a good home for my wife and children. Now the kids are married and on their own — or so we thought.

My wife and I saved a little nest egg for our retirement years, but it seems that the style these days is to hand over the money to the kids for down-payments on homes, furniture, or just to help them pay their rent.

I am against this, I say, let them work for it the way we did. When they work for things themselves, they appreciate them more. Why should we dig into our savings to make life easier for them?

My wife is a softy and has started to hand out money to our kids. Of course, there is no such thing as a "loan" or a "note" with your own children. It's just a present. Please print this with your answer. She thinks I am tight and hardhearted when I say, "No more!"

DAD IN HACKENSACK, N.J.

DEAR HACKENSACK: Let the kids hack it themselves—in Hackensack and everywhere else. I'm with you, Dad.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl and I've always wanted to play the drums. My big brother plays the drums and I figured that since he has a set, my folks wouldn't have to buy one for me. (He's away at college.)

LIKES THE DRUMS

Well, I asked my mother and she said no. Afterwards I found out that my mother talked it over with my brother and he said it wasn't very "feminine" for a girl to play the drums. I'm not one of those big Women's Lib girls. I just want to play the drums. What do you think?

LIKES THE DRUMS

DEAR LIKES: I think your brother ought to be ashamed of himself. If he's a musician worth a drumstick, he knows there is nothing unfeminine about playing the drums. He probably just doesn't want his kid sister messing with his drums while he's away.

MISS MARLENE POTEET

This morning Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Poteet of Ashland make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marlene to Robert Vlean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vlean of Weston.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, April 7, and the ceremony will be solemnized at St. John's Catholic Church in Weston.

Miss Poteet is catering at the Union Insurance Co. in Lincoln.

Mr. Vlean attended the John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo and is a graduate of Radio Engineering School. He now is associated with the E. W. Kneip Co. in Wahoo.

Current Literature

The afternoon's discussion will concern "Jonathon Livingston Seagull," the current best seller written by Richard Bach, as well as Dr. Eric Berne's "The Games People Play."

Dr. Gertrude Auld will lead the discussion of two contemporary books at the Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 28, meeting of the Current Literature Group of the American Association of University Women.

The 12:30 o'clock event will take place at the Pioneer House, 1130 H St.

There's no time for idle chatter this aye — We have things to do — such as rolling out a great big welcome mat for Richard Steven Nolte who first glimpsed the world on Friday, Feb. 23, at Lincoln General Hospital.

Young Mr. Nolte is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Craig Nolte, and peering through the nursery windows every day have been his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nolte, and on the maternal side — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Ft. Worth, Texas, who came to Lincoln to extend personal greetings.

Everyone will be happy to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith (Buffy Carpenter) and their daughter, Hallie, are moving back to the mid-west from San Francisco.

MISS CONNIE BREWER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. John Brewer of Humboldt, of the engagement of their daughter, Connie, to Raymond Shanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shanks of Stella.

No wedding date is named. Miss Brewer is caring at the State Farm Mutual Insurance Co. in Lincoln.

Mr. Shanks is associated with Jelco Inc. in Brownville.

There Is News All Around The Town

"Mid-West" in this instance means Wichita, Kan., where Mr. Smith will be vice-president and general manager of Lewins stores.

Mr. Smith, by the way, already is in Wichita, and in San Francisco to wave goodbye at the time of his departure were Mrs. Smith's father, Gerald Carpenter, and Mrs. Carpenter who, by the way, have just returned from the west coast.

Before going to San Francisco to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter were in Playa del Rey, Calif., where they were the guests of Mrs. Carpenter's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kidder.

and their son, Jon.

It will be dining and dancing at the Airport Holiday Inn for the members of the Terpsichorean Club on Saturday evening. The party has a "Spring Flowers" theme and the arrangements committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamlin, chairman; Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Harm, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Boehmer, Mr. and Mrs. William Ault, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hall.

Guest couples at the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schaff and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wendelin.

Party Pays Courtesy To Susan Wood

Life hasn't been going on just as usual for Miss Susan Wood in recent weeks. She has been a busy bride-elect whose marriage to Andrew "Andy" Anderson will be solemnized on Saturday, March 3.

And much of Miss Wood's busy life these days is due to the courtesies in her honor, and one of these took place yesterday.

Paying pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Wood on Tuesday were Mrs. Roger Larson and Mrs. Greg Smith who entertained at a luncheon and a one-gift shower at the home of Mrs. Larson.

Mrs. Roland Anderson, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Smith.

Parent Seminar Planned

Dr. Jack Trembath, an associate professor in the Department of Pediatrics at the University of Nebraska's Medical Center in Omaha, will discuss "Developing Paternal Resources" at the opening session of a Parent Information Program which will be sponsored by United Cerebral Palsy of Southeast Nebraska.

The first session of the two-part workshop for parents of handicapped children, will be held at the Lincoln Center Building at 8 o'clock in the evening on Friday, March 2.

Dr. Trembath, an Australian-trained physician with a background both in psychiatry and pediatrics, has been active in programs for handicapped children. He also is medical director at the Meyer Children's Rehabilitation Institute in Omaha.

A Fellow of the American Academy of Cerebral Palsy, Dr. Trembath notes that the entire family is affected by the problems concerning the member afflicted with Cerebral Palsy, and expresses the opinion that professionals should, therefore, be concerned with treatment of the family as a whole.

For the Parent Information Program which will be completed by a day-long seminar on Saturday, March 10, Miss JoAnne Korus, program director for United Cerebral Palsy of Southeast Nebraska, worked cooperatively with the staffs of Park School, LOMR's Human Development Program, and General Arnold School in an effort to engage speakers most requested by the parents.

Although the workshop initially was designed for parents of physically handicapped children, specific requests from parents of children with other handicaps moved the committee members to extend the programs to encompass the interests of all parents of children with special needs, as well as all interested persons within the community, according to Mrs. Deanna Coalson, executive director of the local Cerebral Palsy office.

The day-long seminar, which also will be held at the Lincoln Center Building, will be highly structured and detailed, including a display of therapeutic equipment, a medical panel, a services panel, and an education and legislation panel.

Participating in the medical panel, and presenting information regarding the various specialties as they are applied to the multiply-handicapped children, will be an evaluation team from the Children's Rehabilitation Institute in Omaha. Among those taking part in the discussion will be Duane J. Kiewer, a physical therapist, Judy R. Kimmel, OTR, occupational therapist, Kathleen Smith, speech therapist, Dr. Leonard T. Volenski, psychologist, and Dr. Trembath.

Panelists who will inform the parents of available services will include Vernon Schwier, field representative for Social Security; John Charles, medical program coordinator for the Crippled Children Service; Mrs. Dorothy McKenna, social worker for Child Guidance Center; Bonnie Watson, Lincoln District supervisor of vocational rehabilitation; Elmer Prenosil, district manager for Woodmen Insurance; Donald Hogg, chief of medical service for the State Welfare Division; Norman Haldiman, field consultant for Easter Seal; and Mrs. Coalson, UCP executive director. State Sens. Steve Fowler and Harold Simpson, Marion Clark, consultant for the Home-Bound, Orthopedic, and Visually Impaired Division of the State Department of Education; and Dr. Donald Sherill, director of special education for the Lincoln Public School System, will participate in the education and legislation segment of the seminar.

Program Planned

The Kappa Delta Alumnae Association will meet with the members of the sorority's Mothers' Club on Feb. 28.

The program for the 7 o'clock event, which will be held in the Cengas Kitchen, will feature a demonstration entitled "Cooking With Gas."

Chit Chat with Roxi

Teenagers have problems as do all people, and whether that teenager is a girl or a boy makes no difference in the matter of worrisome questions. Talk your problems over with Roxi—Write to her in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Dear Roxi:
I've been playing it very cool with this guy who, I think, likes me. He acts like he is going to do something and then he does nothing. Should I flirt with him and try and get him going or should I wait for him to come around in his own time?

Wondering

Dear Wondering:
You have to do a little of both. Make him aware of the fact you think he is special with a smile and an "hello" whenever you see him. Your eyes are the best messenger you have, so put them to use. Once he has the self-confidence he lacks things will definitely start getting better.

Dear Roxi:
I adore this boy who thinks of me as just a friend. I think it shows that I like him and I think that my friends can tell, but I don't think he knows.

That is the whole problem. It tears me to pieces to think all I am to him is a friend. What can I do to get him to think of me as a girl instead?

J. E.

Dear J. E.:
There is nothing you can change him. If he thinks of you as a friend, that is how he is going to think of you. But, a friendship can be the starting point of a relationship, so don't give up hope completely. Just act the same way you have been acting and take things as they come.

Dear Roxi:
My girlfriend is trying her best to change me. I'm beginning to wonder if there is anything about me that she likes without changing it. I'm becoming her puppet and I don't like it. I like her and I have a definite soft spot for her which is really causing me problems. What can I do?

R. K.

Dear R. K.:
You can start by announcing that not all change is for the better and her changing you is a no-no. If this girl likes you, she must have been attracted to you as you were. Remind her if she changes you, you won't be the same person.

The bidding:

Opening lead - king of clubs.
There are all kinds of inferences a declarer can draw from the bidding or early play of a hand. For example, consider this deal where South got to four spades on the bidding shown.

West led the king of clubs, everyone following low, and shifted to the queen of hearts. It was on this trick that declarer made the highly unusual move of playing low from dummy and low from his hand!

As a result, South made the contract. West continued with a heart to the ace and declarer drew two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, discarded a diamond on the king of hearts, and played the ace of diamonds followed by the queen.

When East covered with the king, declarer ruffed, returned to dummy with a trump, discarded a club on the jack of diamonds, and in that way scored his tenth trick. The only tricks he lost were a heart and two clubs.

Certainly South's method of play seems odd, since it appears more natural to win the heart shift at trick two with the ace, draw trumps, and take a diamond finesse.

Had declarer adopted this course of play, he would have had reason to regret it. He would have lost a diamond and three clubs for down one.

Actually, declarer's method of play was extremely well-founded. He naturally assumed from the first two plays that West had the A-K of clubs and Q-J of hearts, and that West was therefore highly unlikely to have the king of diamonds also — in view of his pass as dealer.

So, rather than place his hopes on West's holding a card he could scarcely have, declarer played East for that card and so scored a dramatic — but well-earned — victory.

The Reginaphone with a scalloped top was made about 1907. The best way to date these music boxes with the metal disc records is from a number on the machine.

Ralph and Terry Kovel

Talking while you work is a right that almost closed the Regina Music Box Company soon after it opened. The men who made the comb tuners for the boxes sat together at a big table and gossiped while they worked. The owner Mr. Brachhausen thought that he would have more work with less talking if he built small walls to section off each table. The workers walked off their jobs and refused to return until the tables were once more open and everyone could join in the conversation.

The Regina Music Box Company was founded in 1892 by a German familiar with the Polyphon music box. At first the company imported all of the parts from Germany. By the mid-1890s, most of the boxes were completely made in their plant in Rahway, N. J. The Regina played a large metal disc which ranged in size from an 8 1/2-inch diameter to a 32-inch diameter. Some styles were coin operated for stores while others were made for home use. Over 100,000 music boxes were sold by the company before it went bankrupt in 1922.

A reorganized Regina Company went back into business in 1924. They had diversified and made vacuum cleaners and other products. They are still making electrical vacuum cleaners and floor polishers.

If you own an early Regina Music Box it is possible to date it from the number on the metal plate attached to the machine. Number 40,001 was made in 1894, number 25,000 in 1898, number 50,000 in 1902, and number 70,000 in 1904.

Q My early Wedgwood egg cup seems too small for an egg. Could it have had another purpose?

A No. You have an egg cup made for 19th-century eggs. The eggs were smaller than those we buy today. The breeding of chickens has caused changes in the egg as well as the chicken.

BOOK REVIEW

"The China Trade" by Crossman (Scribner $25.00) is yet another excellent book about the China trade with America from 1780-1850. Not the porcelains, but the paintings, silver and furniture and wallpaper are pictured and explained. Excellent illustrations, scholarly text.

Shaker enthusiasts will enjoy the new paper "The World of Shakers," 401 W. Savidge Street, Spring Lake, Mich. 49456, four issues per year, $1.00. News of the museums, books, and articles about Shakers are included.

News Of Town And Country

Club meetings seem to be at the top of the list of "things to do" in Town and Country this week; and this morning, we'd like to relate the details of the various organizational get-togethers.

Ceresco

The members of the Happy Center extension club gathered at the home of Mrs. James Mara on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 14, for their monthly meeting. Mrs. Ray Vanicek served the luncheon.

A program entitled "Why Did That Dress Cost So Much?" was presented by Mrs. Ralph Judkins and Mrs. Carl Olson.

Sixteen members and two guests — Mrs. Donna Mara and Mrs. Nancy Duling of Raymond — were present at the meeting. The organization's next get-together will take place on Wednesday afternoon, March 14, at the home of Mrs. Jack Nagel.

Davey

Mrs. Oscar Spader was hostess at her home on Tuesday, Feb. 20, for the meeting of the Davey Woman's Club. Thirteen members and two guests — Mrs. Ed Anderson and Mrs. Oscar Warner, both of Lincoln — were present at the get-together.

Mrs. Vernon Larsen and Mrs. Willard Anderson served a luncheon; and the program entitled "Why Did That Dress Cost So Much?" was presented by Mrs. C. E. Walstrom and Mrs. David McGill.

Those in attendance also enjoyed hearing about Miss Thelma Alley's trip to California, and Mrs. Tidus Johnson's vacation in Phoenix, Ariz.

The next meeting will take place on Tuesday, March 20, at the home of Mrs. Russell Blomstrom.

Waverly

Mrs. M. W. Dunlap was hostess at her home on Tuesday, Feb. 27, for the monthly meeting of the Waverly Matronettes extension club. Assistant hostess for the 1:30 o'clock get-together was Mrs. Max Wohlford.

Mrs. Harold Nansel presented the program.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, the members of the Progressive Herdmen 4-H Club gathered at the home of Miss Bonnie Doane for a meeting.

Highlighting the business agenda was the discussion and approval of the year's calendar and the naming of committee chairmen. In addition, members selected topics for demonstrations that they will give at future meetings.

The next meeting will take place on Tuesday evening, March 13, at the Clark Hatch home, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. At that time, members 13 years of age and older will present demonstrations.

Government's Language May Require Translation

By DON BEMAN
United Press International
Government, it seems, speaks with a language all its own.

Thus, an occasional task facing the news media is simply translation.

But once in a while, there is no translation and a simple word or phrase raises the eyebrows of an editor, who later has an inclination to raise his voice in asking for the needed interpretation.

One of the latest situations involving this reported centered on the use of the term "input."

The eyebrow, and later the other, went up and the belated translation process began.

In context, the governor wasn't going to make a decision on a certain matter until he had "legislative input."

The final translation was something to the effect that he simply wanted to know what the boys down the hall in the senate chamber thought about the matter.

Why the jargon?
2 Schools of Thought

There seem to be two schools of thought. The first holds that to confuse is to protect from probing eyes.

For example, in conversations in the hallowed halls of government use the term "configuration." Heads will nod knowingly.

But whether you will get the thumbnail sketch Webster's says you should if you ask for the "general configuration" of a particular program may be something else again.

The other school of thought is that the user simply wants to sound more important than he really is.

For example, no government employee ever just gets an idea. He does, however, "generate a new and innovative approach to a situation."

Interesting Phrase
One of the more interesting phrases in government language is "assimilating recommendations from numerous agency representatives."

On the surface, that sounds like a meeting of the minds similar to a Nixon-Kissinger talk. Actual translation: "Plug in the coffee pot, we've got a live one to hash over."

Also, agencies and employees of government do not have jobs. They do, however, have "programs." No employee is just flat out fired and likewise there are no layoffs. But, "programs are terminated," which generally means they couldn't be justified any longer.

Every now and then, the public learns that a program is up for "re-evaluation." In English, that means there are some problems, but not major ones.

But then again, once in a while a program is being "re-evaluated with an eye toward amending the comprehensive plan."

Translation: this one is in real trouble. Nothing works right.

A comprehensive plan, which requires varying lengths of time and paper to put together, is to many the equivalent of the original idea behind a program.

Only One Solution
Thus, when a program reaches the point where it simply doesn't work there is only one solution — change the original idea. That then is what is meant by amending the comprehensive plan.

When government money is being discussed, there seems to be another set of foggy terms used.

Usually, when someone gets a "new and innovative approach," the first question is: "Is this economically feasible?"

Translated, that means is the money there.

That means a "feasibility study" must be made. Once the look at the checkbook, accompanied by an auditor's report, has been completed, then the next question is: "What is the fiscal impact?"

In short, that means how many dollars will state, local and federal government taxes have to provide.

"Ballpark Figure"

When pressed, those fluent in government will reply to a direct question by quoting what is termed a "ballpark figure." To the news media, that is the equivalent of "yes and no, but don't quote me." To the outsider, it means "I hope it's more than we need because it looks good to drop it back later."

In terms of working equipment, there appear to be two kinds. They are "hardware" and "sophisticated hardware."

In office equipment, hardware apparently means pencils and erasers while sophisticated hardware is anything more than that.

In terms of communications equipment, sophisticated hardware means anything more than two tin cans and a piece of string between them.

Sophisticated Hardware
But, in general, sophisticated hardware means: "It works when I push the button — I hope — and that's all I know about it."

In the area of excuses, government is not silent.

One of the more common phrases used when someone asks why can't something be done is: "This requires a policy decision."

To the non-speaker of government, that sounds like the old pass-the-buck routine while to the naive it means that nobody less than the agency head can decide.

Direct translation: "Don't call us, we'll call you."

HEALTH TIP

FROM THE NEBRASKA MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
The Nebraska Medical Association advises that good hobbies are as important, useful and necessary as one's profession or trade. Good hobbies are one of the things that makes retirement successful, but not the only thing.

A hobby often helps release tensions created by an active life and becomes a good outlet for healthy emotions. But it is just as important to develop hobbies throughout one's life, as to adopt one upon retirement says the Nebraska Medical Association.

A good hobby must be something you like, not something someone else thinks you "ought" to like. A hobby should help you relax and give real satisfaction within itself. Your hobby should make your time feel valuable to you, not wasted. A good hobby produces something tangible and worthwhile. It should increase your knowledge and skills. A good hobby should cost no more than you can afford. In fact, it may produce revenue.

Hobbies are very individual choices. Three well-known modern novelists, Somerset Maugham, A. J. Cronin and Frank Slaughter, were doctors who found their best creative outlet in the writing of novels and their hobby became a profession.

Making things through arts and crafts, visiting shut-ins or serving as a volunteer with an organization, are hobbies that can be performed alone or among others. Your interests are the sole goal.

The Nebraska Medical Association points out that it is unimportant what other people think of your choice of a hobby. It is your life, not theirs.

Watercolor Paintings Exhibited

Watercolor paintings by Francis R. Meisch, of Saint Paul, Minn., are being shown through March 18 in the Sheldon Gallery at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Meisch received the bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota and the master's degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His architectural training is evident in his cityscapes and architectural paintings.

Meisch has taught freehand drawing, watercolors and architectural subjects at the North Dakota State College of Architecture. And since 1942, he has been an architect in the Minneapolis-Saint Paul area.

ACTION LINE

Or Write P.O. Box 81669, Lincoln, NE 68501

I want to know if I can ride a 10-speed bicycle on gravel roads all the time. Would this ruin the gears or hurt the bike in any other way?
—Wondering, York

ACTION LINE: The people at the Humane Society Bicycle Co-op say that the bike will just need some special attention. Mostly dust and small gravel particles will adhere to the lubricant in the chain mechanism and will need to be removed.

They suggest that you wash the bike weekly, in a car wash if possible, paying special attention to the chain and rear cogs and being careful not to get water into the hub.

Then spray the works with a light aerosol lubricant — not a heavy oil which would only attract and hold more road dirt. Again, do not spray lubricant into the hub.

The Co-op says that your bike will return good service to you if you take care of it.

About mid-December I ordered nearly $50 worth of merchandise from Unity Buying Service, Inc., Mt. Vernon, N.Y. I received some of the items but a $39 ring set is still outstanding. The most frustrating thing is that the company won't answer my letters to them.
—O.W. Holmesville

ACTION LINE: Nor will they answer their phone since they don't have one listed.

But the nearest Better Business Bureau says that Unity is a firm of long standing and there have been no serious complaints about them.

If the merchandise still has not arrived, we suggest that you send photo copies of your invoice and cancelled check (we'll return the ones you gave us) along with a complaint letter to the Long Island Better Business Bureau, 435 Old Country Rd., Westbury, N.Y. 11590. They will then be able to check directly with the company on your behalf.

Why does the College View post office violate its own regulations by closing at 11 a.m. on Saturday when it says it is open until noon?
—J.G. Lincoln

ACTION LINE: A postal official at the office says that the noon closing is the time printed on "left notice" notifications when packages or letters are undeliverable. Parcel and stamp sales service stop at 11 a.m. as you say.

Since the doors are locked at 11 a.m., you need to get the attention of the clerk on duty by rapping on the window for "left notice" service only. The man we talked to says he will respond to these needs as long as he's there and he stays until 4 p.m. at the office on Saturday.

We have been trying to hear or get the record "Wake Up America" that has been promoted by POW-MIA groups. Why haven't we been hearing it on radio in Lincoln?
—Debbie Zich, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: As far as we can tell, the record has not been aired in Lincoln.

Some radio stations say they did not receive the record, some got very bad pressings that cannot be played, some stations say the quality of the performance is so low that they decided against playing the record even though they are very concerned about the plight of the men, but mostly, there have been few requests for it.

KWHG-FM has prepared a promotion from the record using about a 30-second cut from it. According to the station, the record is available through VIVA 2506-2507 So. 90th Omaha, Neb. 68124.

I subscribed to the U.S. Postal Service's Philatelic Automatic Mailing Service for first day cancellations. This is a system whereby one deposits $10 with the service and then receives first day cancellations and information about commemoratives as they are issued. I sent my money in last August but still haven't received anything. I have written but got no reply. Can you get an answer?
—Mrs. Andrew Eckhoff, Auburn

ACTION LINE: The Postal Service says subscriptions to the service have increased by some 300% in the last year but there has been no corresponding increase in personnel. A spokesman says orders have been running about 16 weeks behind schedule but there have been two mailings since August and you should have received at least one of them.

He will check the computerized records to see what the holdup is.

Why doesn't Plainsman dormitory on the Nebraska Wesleyan University campus have any heat? It's been this way for 21 days straight.
—Spokesman, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: Richard Johnson, business manager at Wesleyan, says that while the heat was off for about eight hours at one point due to fuel shortages, he is not aware of any large-scale problem with heating.

He wonders if you might not be having trouble with heating in an individual room. At any rate, he hopes you will report it to the head resident of the dorm if you're still cold, so that your specific room can be checked.

Is it true there will be a 10-month school year next year?

—In the Dark, Lincoln

ACTION LINE: While July is the only month on the calendar when there are no regular Lincoln Public School classes, the year appears to be just about the same for the 1973-74 year as it is for 1972-73 year.

The first day is Aug. 27, the last June 5. The holidays and days off for other purposes seem to be roughly the same as for this year.

No Gas Price Hike Slated Here

By DICK HOLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Automobile fuel wholesalers Monday spiked rumors that the price of a gallon of gas would rise two to three cents in the Lincoln area this week.

If the major oil companies have any plans to hike pre-pump prices, "We won't know it until it happens," said Harold Jacobs of Jacobs Service Inc.

In the past, major oil companies made special allowances for dealers, which tended to support artificially low prices all the way to the old Chevy's gas tank.

The allowances "enabled jobbers and retailers to share in the depressed price. No one person had to bear the brunt of a price war," said Bus Whitehead, president of Whitehead Oil Co.

More Reluctant
Now, however, "Oil companies are much more reluctant to give price protection than they were a year ago," he said. Whitehead remarked that the allowances have been "quite expensive for the major oil companies."

Larry Isaacson of Isaacson Oil Co., echoed that comment, reasoning that fuel shortages, an unstable market and anticipated demand combined as the basis for discontinued dealer support.

"The demand last year was predicted at a three to four per cent increase," Whitehead noted, "but it turned out to be actually seven per cent."

Price Stabilized
Yet virtual elimination of allowances by the major producers has caused the price of gas to stabilize rather than increase, Whitehead said.

But he and other fuel wholesalers also allowed that this summer when vacationers' demands for gas increase, the price per gallon will probably rise correspondingly.

We're going into the summer with less reserves than we've ever had before, Isaacson said.

If tax-added pump prices increase, "They're going to go back to what we call normal," Isaacson said. However, he added, "Our (distributors') maximum suggested retail price is going to stay the same."

Common Method
Scott Brown, Texaco sales supervisor, said elimination of allowances is a common method that major producers use to attempt to stabilize prices.

And if there are gas price hikes, Brown said Texaco "won't make a special pricing for the Lincoln area." Rather, he said, it would apply to Texaco nationwide.

Whitehead said Phillips 66 has held at the same price for the past three years.

Jacobs, who deals primarily with Gulf, said pre-tax prices now are "pretty uniform" across the U.S.

And although producers haven't given "any notice whatsoever" of imminent higher prices, "I judge they're going to go up," Jacobs said.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Forecast For Wednesday

Virgo is analytical, can be shrewd, is often self-critical and has enough sense to be aware of diet, vitamin intake and health in general. Virgo has a sincere desire to be of service, does not tolerate being pushed, is capable of loving and living life to the hilt. Virgo displays a unique kind of respect for Leo, can make money with Libra, is drawn in a mysterious manner to Pisces, harmonizes with Taurus, Capricorn, Cancer and Scorpio. Natives of this sign must exercise caution in dealing with Sagittarius and Gemini. Virgo earns more money in 1973 and September should be an outstanding month.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Emphasis is on advancement, gain, fulfillment of ambition. You gain now by building for future. Includes real estate, home improvement. You may have to take some risks. But ultimate results could work in your behalf.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You get green light in connection with travel, publishing, advertising. You may be called upon to create special program designed for television. Whatever the specifics, your views will be commended to large numbers of persons.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Power play could be featured. Let others know you are not without allies. Protect yourself in clinches. Accept added responsibility, but get paid for it. Stop playing games. State your case, your requirements. Then you earn respect and profit.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Refuse to be pushed, rushed, carried or chided into impulsive act. Finish current project. Don't make premature start. Strive to make your position more understandable. Insist on better distribution deal.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Stress in dependence, originality. You are able to get basics into operation. Those who perform special services will come through if you set example. Don't let down on quality. One who challenges you is merely testing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Love, emotional responses are spotlighted. Relations with those who mean most to you are accented. Nothing occurs halfway. It is all or nothing. Know it and don't play games. Basic change is due to occur. You get news in surprising manner.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Roadblock is removed. You can be more active and happier. If single question of marriage is featured, married or single, you will be concerned with co-operative effort. It is apt to be double harness. Review situation and get used to it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Shake up due. Sagittarius could be involved. There is movement — there are messages and calls. Cycle indicates activity and unusual dealings with neighbors, relatives. One you look for granted performs great service.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You gain by following through on hunch. Sense of timing is sharply honed. Speculative venture succeeds. There is excitement and also a romantic aura. Accent is on change, variety, possible travel and communication with attractive member of opposite sex.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Get going. Be a self-starter. Push ahead by taking initiative. Start something. Begin new. Taurus, Libra persons play prominent roles. One who made promise in past now makes genuine effort to fulfill it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Have confidence in your beliefs, convictions. One who doubts and wants to shake you is jealous. Give yourself some quiet moments for purpose of meditating. Throw off foolish doubts, fears.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Fr. end is apt to be aggressive. Hold your ground. What appears to be an impossible situation is, but temporary. Check with Capricorn. Accent is on taking positive steps to fulfill hopes and wishes.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are basically independent, an original thinker, inventive and attractive to opposite sex. It's note you could marry this year — March and December are indicated as your most significant months of 1973. You seem to draw to you persons born under Leo and Aquarius.

POSTCARD

by

Stan Delaplaine

Spring is trembling on the brink. I can say that because I have a poetic license. (License expires on next birthday. Must wear glasses while operating.)

We are waiting for the blooming ocotillo to bloom in Arizona.

The mighty saguaro cactus is swelling with winter rain — enough to last the dry hot summer.

We took a camper from American Camper in South San Francisco — the company pleads with me to call it a "motor home."

Camper sounds like roughing it.

Not so rough friends. The camper today is appointed with tape decks and showers and self-cleaning ovens.

I sent my older daughter and friend off in it.

I said, "I'll fly down and meet you."

The Silver Fox lives in luxury. But not in something you might have to push it runs out of gas.

The Arizona state motto is "God Enriches." However, the enterprising citizens don't leave it all to Heaven.

They advertise: "Where the Sunshine Spends the Winter. And more than 6 million visitors warm themselves in the golden glow each year."

With the opening of new Lake Havasu City, they finally have a place in the middle of the desert where you can get seaskick. And I imagine Arizona is justly proud of this.

Half of the new city will be employed in light industry — Arizona is one of four prime targets for moving or expanding industry.

The other half will take care of the tourists. (Presumably selling them seaskick pills if they need them.)

The last case of seaskickness in Arizona was way back in 1856.

A Navy officer named Ed Beale persuaded Jefferson Davis to bring over Egyptian camels for desert hauling. Davis was then secretary of war. The camel thing may have been the reason he seceded.

A golden morning in the Arizona desert. It is almost spring. A sunny mild 70 degrees. When spring comes, the desert is showered with wild flower. Orange-red ocotillo cactus. Yellow brittle bush. Lavender scorpion weed.

In the clear desert air you can see forever. The smoke-blue mountains far away. The Colorado river outside the door is like a sheet of glass. The vast back country is full of wild burros and mule deer and desert sheep. Wild horses and wild cats and quail and coyotes.

What happened to camels? The camels hauled supplies to Army forts until 1860. The reason they abandoned the camel Navy was curious. The camel gaint made American riders seaskick.

That's what they say, anyway.

Rock Hounds Spend Friday Nights Far, Far In The Past

VOLUNTEERS . . . Marjorie Keedick cleaning an oreodont skull, Laurence Van Cleave reaching for a tool and Norm Engelhart studying the task.

By LIANE WETTERER
Star Staff Writer

The instructions say "Enter at west door of Nebraska Hall, take elevator to fourth floor. Go through red doors, pull string to ring bell for entrance."

From there the observer takes a long step into the past — make that the deep, dark past of more than 35 million years ago.

A little way down the hall, about nine "rock hounds" while away their Friday nights helping with fossil preparation for the State Museum.

A middle-aged woman with just a fleck of gray hair sits leaning over a pile of tiny bones on the table in front of her.

She examines the fragments one by one, trying to decide how the minuscule pieces fit together. It's kind of like a weird jigsaw puzzle, she said. "You never know what you're going to come up with."

The woman, Mrs. Marjorie Heedick, was piecing together the jawbone of an oreodont, a prehistoric relative of the pig, who roamed the Badlands region near Crawford about 35 million years ago.

So far, Mrs. Heedick has put in about 12 hours scraping, cleaning and shellacking the fragile oreodont bones. Eventually the finished project will wind up in either a research collection or as part of the museum proper.

According to Mrs. Dorothy Engelhart, the museum volunteers' unofficial leader, the group got its start in 1964 with the "plesiosaur project."

She said about 45 members of the Lincoln Gem and Mineral Club helped uncover, transport, clean and mount the 120-million-year-old sea serpent, discovered on the Adolph Rezac farm near Valparaiso.

The reptile is now on display from 7:30 to 10 p.m. between the months of September and May.

"We rock hounds like to go hunting ourselves during the summer months," she said. "We all have private mineral and rock collections."

Mrs. Engelhart was studying micro fauna from a concentrate brought back from fossil beds in Montana.

The small animals or groups of animals lived during the late cretaceous period, about 70 million years ago, she said.

She uses tweezers and a giant magnifying glass to sort out bits and pieces of bones and scales from the dirt and gravel concentrate.

After the fragments are sorted and put in bottles, scientists can tell what kind of tiny animals in room 104 of the State Museum, she said.

A member of the Assistant Paleontology Committee, Midwest Federation, Mrs. Engelhart said she would like to see volunteers such as the museum group, recognized as amateur scientists.

"Museum officials almost consider some of us professionals, anyway," she said.

Mrs. Engelhart said the museum volunteers meet weekly habited the region during that period — probably rats, mice and lizards, she said.

Other volunteers use dental tools, knives or "just about anything that does the job" to restore prehistoric relatives of horses, camels, sheep and pigs.

Fossils usually arrive from the field laboratories wrapped in old newspapers, brown paper bags, plaster casts or sometimes even tissue paper, Mrs. Engelhart said.

Because of the tremendous backlog of projects, shortage of help and the time-consuming process of preparation, she said, the museum is sometimes years behind in its work.

Reaching into a pile of neatly tied bundles, she pulled out a plain brown sack. After carefully unwrapping it, she uncovered a wad of yellow bathroom tissue

Inside that was a tiny fragment of jawbone with three teeth.

"Ah, it's a ramus of an ensetivore — a jawbone with teeth," she said. "It's like Christmas, isn't it? You just never know."

Woodman Increases Assets By 9%

Woodmen Accident and Life Co. reported record gains to the 83rd annual policyowners meeting at the company's home office in Lincoln Tuesday.

President E. J. Faulkner said the company's assets rose 9% to $111,603,000. Life insurance in force grew 8% to $940 million, while new life sales exceeding $151 million were 12% greater than in 1971.

Total income for 1972, Faulkner said, was more than $40 million. Benefits paid or provided for amounted to $26.5 million, up 6.4%, and dividends paid policyowners increased to $2,324,000.

Directors re-elected by the policyowners for a three-year term are: W. S. Henrion, J. C. Angle, William J. Aitken, Ervin F. Rucklos, and R. L. Spangler Jr.

Other directors who continue to serve are: E. J. Faulkner, R. L. Spangler, George P. Abel, James W. Bradley, C. W. Faulkner, Henry Y. Kleinkauf, Paul C. Schorr Jr., E. N. Thompson, Thomas H. Wake, and Thomas C. Woods Jr.

President Faulkner announced that at the board of directors meeting following the policyowners meeting, the following promotions were approved:

John Haessler to vice president and general counsel; Glen E. Thompson to vice president and secretary; R. D. Frickel to vice president-policyowners service; Myron W. Weller to 2nd vice president-securities; Warren Watson to 2nd vice president-benefits; Tom Ehlers to assistant vice president-life underwriting; Ted Rowan to director, group association trusts; Larry Rhodes to senior underwriter; Alan Blaha to Virginia Reigert to supervisor-printing; and Fredericka Gerken to benefits auditor.

John C. Smith III, was appointed junior securities analyst and Jeff Powell field supervisor.

Officers re-elected are: E. J. Faulkner, president; R. L. Spangler, chairman of the board; W. S. Henrion, senior vice president and treasurer; John C. Angle, vice president and director of agencies; W. D. Walters, vice president-special markets; H. A. Corrected Omaha Council Bill Approved

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A corrected version of Sen. Ernest Chambers' Omaha City Council district election bill cleared the Legislature Tuesday on a 27-15 count.

The bill, LB12, re-enacted in a form which erased procedural objections raised by Gov. J. James Exon, now goes to the governor for his signature.

The measure had earlier been enacted on a 29-17 vote. Chambers arose after the vote to "thank those of you who stuck" with the bill.

Termed Phenomenal

To pass a district election proposal once during the session was "remarkable," Chambers said. To pass it twice was "phenomenal."

LB12 would increase the size of the Omaha City Council from seven to 12 members, all elected by district. All council members in Omaha are now elected citywide.

The new system would become effective in 1977.

All five Lincoln senators voted for the Omaha bill. Lancaster County's sixth lawmaker, Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, opposed it.

Support By Seven

Seven of Omaha's 13 senators supported the bill.

Voting with Chambers were Sens. John Cavanaugh III, James Dickinson, Richard Fellman, Eugene Mahoney, William Skarda and Dave Stahmer.

Opposing the proposal were Sens. Glenn Goodrich, Harold Moylan, Richard Proud, John Savage, Duke Snyder and George Syas.

All Omaha and Lincoln senators held to their original positions on the bill.

Heavy Pressure

Despite the fact that LB12 had earlier been approved and was back on final reading only to correct procedural problems, pressure to torpedo it was reportedly heavy.

Omaha city officials, including Mayor Eugene Leahy and members of the City Council, strongly opposed the measure.

LB12 states that citywide election of council members in Omaha "denies representation to some socioeconomic segments of the population."

Proponents of the bill have suggested that South Omaha and the Near North Side are largely unrepresented in city government.

The vote to pass LB12:

For: Anderson, Barnett, Carpenter, C. Corsten, F. Carstens, Cavanaugh, Chambers, DeCamp, Dickinson, Duls, Fellman, Fowler, Kremer, F. Lewis, Lewis, Ludtke, Mahoney, Marsh, Marshall, Marvel, Nore, Rasmussen, Schmitt, Simpson, Skarda, Stahmer, Waldron.

Against: Goodrich, Hasebroock, Kennedy, Keyes, Kime, Moylan, Proud, Richendollar, Savage, Snyder, Stromer, Stull, Syas, Warner, Wittke.

Absent or not voting: Burbach, Clark, Epke, Johnson, Kelly, Murphy, Whitney.

License Plates For Paraplegics Are Approved

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Paraplegic motorists in Nebraska soon will be recognizable by their license plates.

The Legislature passed 39-0 and sent to Gov. J. J. Exon for signature Tuesday a bill providing for issuance of free, distinctive license plates to paraplegics.

The plates, used in lieu of conventional plates, will carry the internationally accepted wheelchair symbol of a person seated in a wheelchair.

The bill, LB176, was sponsored by Sen. Orval Keyes of Springfield, who said he understands there are only about 50 paraplegics in the state.

Anti-Discrimination Bill Is Delayed

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A confused group of legislators agreed Tuesday to delay floor consideration of an anti-discrimination bill until senators can study a series of amendments to the measure.

The amendments proposed by Sen. Ralph Kelly of Grand Island to LB112 won approval on a voice vote, and further consideration was delayed for several days.

In the meantime, the amendments will be printed in the daily legislative journal where senators can read them.

Kelly said his amendments are designed to take away some of the "secrecy" by which the state's Equal Opportunity Commission (EOC) operates.

raised the bill to general file on a 29-12 vote.

The bill would give the EOC power to investigate and enforce prohibitions against discrimination at places of public accommodations, such as restaurants and hotels. The EOC currently oversees alleged discrimination in housing and employment.

Following adoption of Kelly's amendment, Sen. Terry Carpenter offered another amendment which would eliminate EOC power to check or file complaints with the state Justice Department or county attorneys.

"Let it stand on its own feet," he said of the EOC's pending complaints of discrimination "are grossly exaggerated."

Sen. John Cavanaugh of Omaha opposed Carpenter's amendment, contending EOC access to attorneys insures due process for both sides in a complaint.

Carpenter later withdrew his amendment after several senators suggested it was hard to understand since they did not have it to read, and the Legislature agreed to withhold further consideration until a revised copy of the amended form of LB112 is available.

Senators Kill Workmen's Benefits Bill

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The Legislature Tuesday decided the time has not come to extend workmen's compensation benefits to farm and ranch workers and household employees.

Legislators killed on a 27-13 vote LB184, which would have extended the benefits to that group of employees.

The bill was killed during general file floor consideration on a motion by Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh, who said it "is improper at this time."

Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha, sponsor of LB184, contended DeCamp was concerned "with those who would have to pay the premiums" while Chambers' concern "is with those persons who run the risk of being injured."

The bill had been considered on general file a week ago and DeCamp offered his kill motion then, but legislators broke for lunch before voting on the matter.

Chambers had argued that there is no reason why farm workers or household employees should be exempt from the law, and said they run the same risk of injury as do workers in factories or stores, jobs which are covered.

Sen. Ralph Kelly of Grand Island argued LB184 would extend coverage "way beyond needs."

Sen. Gary Anderson of Axtell Tuesday also said the bill should be killed, but urged a study whether the problem is critical enough to merit extension of the coverage.

"We can't really have enough information at this time" to warrant enactment of LB184 into law, Anderson told his colleagues.

Supporters of LB184 argued the federal government may require such coverage, but DeCamp replied, "that's something that's raised on about half the bills we consider."

Drug Control Bill Passed By Senators

The first of Sen. Loran Schmit's package of drug control appropriations bills was approved by the Legislature Tuesday on a 35-8 vote.

The measure, LB14A, would fund the employment of not less than three legal counsels by the State Patrol to assist county attorneys in drug abuse cases and to advise the Patrol on legal matters.

LB14, the authorizing bill, was approved on a 33-7 count.

Both measures now go to Gov. J. James Exon, who was invited last week by two members of the Appropriations Committee to veto the bills.

Both Sens. Robert Clark of Sidney and Ramey Whitney of Chappell objected to funding additional drug control activities outside of the regular budget process.

Cost of LB14 has been pegged at $60,121.

Tuesday's 35 votes for the appropriations bill would have lifted the bill beyond gubernatorial veto powers under old constitutional appropriations provisions.

But voter-approved amendments to the constitution now permit the governor to veto or reduce any appropriations proposal. With 30 votes, the Legislature could subsequently override any gubernatorial objections.

Exon's Anti-Obscenity Bill Comes Under Fire

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer
Gov. J. James Exon's proposed anti-obscenity bill ran into tough sledding Tuesday before the Legislature's Judiciary Committee.

The measure, LB304, sponsored by Sen. James Dickinson of Omaha, was held for later action along with an anti-obscenity proposal introduced by Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton.

Burbach's bill, LB451, was supported by a number of prosecutors, book sellers and movie distributors organized as the Citizens for Decent Expression.

Neither bill attracted opposition testimony.

But Exon's proposal came under heavy questioning from four committee members, enough senators to prevent the measure from ever reaching the floor.

Fashioned after an Ohio law championed by Cincinnati attorney Charles Keating, founder of the Citizen's Decency League, LB304 would use swift civil procedures rather than lengthy criminal action to attempt to close or confiscate lewd films, books, magazines or exhibitions.

Obscenity is "a public nuisance," gubernatorial counsel Norman Krivosha of Lincoln told the committee.

"Like pollutants in the air, it creates problems for society," he said.

During more than an hour of questioning, Krivosha defended the proposal.

"You ask me to join you in being a censor," Sen. Ernest Chambers of Omaha said.

Even if a film or a magazine is obscene, Sen. John DeCamp of Neligh asked, "who is being injured if someone looks at it?" Sen. Wally Barnett of Lincoln said the lack of definition of obscenity in the bill "scared me to death."

Krivosha told Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff he "can't honestly tell you" whether Playboy Magazine would be considered obscene under the provisions of LB304.

Lewdness is defined in the bill as "all manner of lewd sexual conduct or live exhibition," and its determination is left to individual courts.

Carpenter said that would mean his retail business might be closed for selling Playboy, "ruining my reputation... or what I've got left of it... and my business."

Leaving standards to individual judges is dangerous, Chambers suggested. "Suppose a judge had the standards of a smut peddler," he asked.

A State Supreme Court opinion last week on pornography clears the way for obscenity legislation based on community standards, he said.

Supporting testimony was voiced by Lancaster Deputy County Attorney Robert Gibson and on behalf of Lincoln Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf.

Burbach said LB451 would bring Nebraska law into conformity with recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions on pornography, adopting the court's language defining obscenity as objectionable material "utterly without redeeming social value."

A the same time, he said, LB451 would protect freedom of speech.

No One Appers To Oppose State Aid For Public Schools

By BOB GUENTHER

schools was the most significant result of his two-day hearing.

ERA Kill Resolution Stuck In Committee

Sen. Richard Proud's resolution to repeal the 1972 Legislature's ratification of the equal rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution Tuesday appeared to be hopelessly stuck in committee.

A motion to advance the resolution, LR9, to the floor of the Unicameral failed on a 4-4 tie vote.

Earlier a motion to kill the proposal fell on a 4-3 vote. Five votes were required.

Executive session discussion indicated that committee members are locked into their positions.

25 Votes Needed
Thus, Proud will need to offer a motion on the floor to lift the resolution from the committee for floor debate. That request would need 25 affirmative votes.

Voting to kill the resolution in committee were Sens. Ernest Chambers and Richard Fellman, both of Omaha, and Wally Barnett and Steve Fowler, both of Lincoln.

Voting to advance were Sens. John DeCamp of Neligh, Herb Dues of Gothenburg, Blair Richendier of Walthill and Leslie Stull of Alliance.

1,000 At Hearing
LR9 underwent a four-hour public hearing before the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee last week attended by a thousand persons.

Tuesday the committee huddled over the noon hour to see if it could take action on the resolution.

DeCamp, who said he still favors the equal rights amend-

Senators Nix Government Insurance Bill

The Legislature rebuffed Tuesday a suggestion that cities, counties, school districts and other governmental subdivisions be required to provide personal liability insurance for their employees.

But lawmakers advanced from general file 34-0 a bill allowing such insurance at the option of the subdivision.

The permission was contained in Lincoln Sen. Roland Luedtke's LB339.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff proposed that the insurance protection be mandatory. His amendment was rejected 20-19.

Resistance to the "mandatory" amendment had come chiefly from school groups, but Carpenter contended schools, which receive state money, ought to be told how to use it.

Legislative Bills Passed

By The Associated Press
Bills passed on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday (Emergency clause):

LB12 — Increases from seven to 12 the membership of the Omaha City Council and provides for election of members by districts. Chambers, 27-15.

LB14 — Supplies the State Patrol with three legal counsels to assist county attorneys in the prosecution of drug abuse cases. Schmitz, 33-7.

LB14A — Appropriates $60,121 to carry out the provisions of LB14. 35-8.

LB32 — Authorizes governing bodies to permit operations of vending businesses by blind and partially sighted persons on any county, city or municipally-owned or controlled property. Moylan, 45-0.

LB71 — Gives cities and counties concurrent and joint jurisdiction over any road or street which forms a common boundary between cities or between a city and a county. Goodrich, E. 45-0.

LB103 — Revises makeup of plumbing boards and provides that in Omaha, the board shall include persons who live within the city's zoning jurisdiction. Savage, E. 45-0.

LB176 — Provides distinctive license plates, to be issued free of charge, to paraplegics, to be used in lieu of the usual license plates. Keyes, 39-0.

LB178 — Redefines Nebraska-bred horses for purposes of pari-mutuel racing. Simpson, 44-1.

5 Court Bills Introduced

A package of five bills designed to bring Nebraska criminal court procedures into line with federal standards was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

The bills, sponsored by the Judiciary Committee at the request of the State Judicial Council, bring to 504 the number of bills in the current session.

Two of the bills would require defense attorneys to notify the prosecution when the defense will be based on either alibi or insanity.

Another measure, LB502, would create 21 district public

Legislature To Get Complete Repair List

By United Press International
The State Building Commission agreed Tuesday to provide the Legislature with a complete list of work needed done on the state capitol building and how much it will cost.

The agreement came during a joint meeting with the Legislature's Executive Board, chaired by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Initially, the meeting began with a discussion of leaks and air-conditioning.

Linus Burr Smith of Lincoln, an architect and member of the building commission, said the cause of some of the leaks in the roof has not been determined and it doesn't appear that there is any easy way of finding them and plugging them.

However, he said, that doesn't mean the building is ready to fall down.

"This building is not a hopeless case," he said, adding further, "this building will never become perfect."

He said the reason that every problem cannot be solved is primarily because of the size of the structure and also the fact it is now 45-years-old.

The main objection raised by the senators was the speed with which repairs were being made.

The commission indicated that it has only asked for enough money to do what is needed and what could be readily identified.

Carpenter, however, said the commission "should proceed as if you are going to correct everything."

If money runs short, he said, then it is the commission's responsibility to inform the Legislature. In turn, Carpenter said, the Legislature must then meet its responsibility.

Sen. Glenn Goodrich of Omaha questioned whether the capitol building could ever be put into full utilization economically.

"This building is the most functionally inefficient building in the world," Goodrich said.

If private enterprise was in charge of it, he said it would be torn down and replaced. He added that "I'm not so all-fired sure that I wouldn't favor tearing it down and replacing it."

One Bank Holding Bill Is Advanced To Floor

The Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee voted unanimously Tuesday to advance a proposed one bank holding act to the floor.

The bill, LB441, was sponsored by Sen. John Murphy of South Sioux City and would allow the State Banking Department to delve into matters of banks owning one another.

Murphy, during the executive session on the bill, said at present there is no mention of one bank holding companies in state laws and thus the banking department felt it should be there.

The bill would allow the department to require reports of such banks, which would include situations whereby 25% of the stock or more of any one bank is held by another.

Killed by the committee was a bill, LB305, which would have prohibited financial institutions from betting involved in the insurance business.

The bill, authored by Sen. Glenn Goodrich of Omaha, would specifically have banned

Smith, however, replied that any government building is "65% monument and the remainder usable" and Nebraska's capitol building is no exception.

any institutions in a town of over 5,000 in population from selling, either directly or indirectly, insurance regardless of the situation.

Another bill advanced was Chappell Sen. Ramey C. Whitney's LB396, which would give the State Investment Council additional investment authority.

Student Dies In Gun Battle

Richmond, Va. (UPI) — One student was killed and another was wounded Tuesday when they were caught in a cross-fire between two other youths firing pistols at Armstrong High School.

The dead youth was identified as Wayne Phillips, 17. The injured girl was identified as Felida Julia Gardner, 14. She was wounded in the leg during the incident, which took place 10 minutes before the scheduled opening of classes.

Las Vegas Invasion

Sports jottings while wondering if Las Vegas will ever be the same after July 20:

That's the date when the last of the 48,000 women bowlers, who will be competing there over a 107-day period in the Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament, will pick up their bowling ball and head for home.

Can you imagine 48,000 women traipsing through Las Vegas with a bowling ball in one hand and a roll of silver dollars in the other?

That same powerful legislative committee in Massachusetts that successfully pushed through a lottery bill two years ago is now pushing for an off-track betting bill that also would make football parlay sheets legal in the state.

Former Oklahoma football coach Chuck Fairbanks may have gotten $200,000 per year to take over the New England Patriots, but at the same time, he gave up one of the best freebies football coaches and sports writers enjoy all year long.

By going into pro football, Fairbanks has been scratched from the invitation list to the National Football Coaches Invitational Golf Tournament, which this year has been moved from Bella Vista, Ark., to Hot Springs. And Fairbanks would have been the defending champion.

John L. Madala, director of security at Miami's Hialeah Race Track, says fixing a horse race is a most difficult thing.

"In eight of the last 10 fixing investigations I've headed, the horse that was supposed to win didn't," he points out. "There are just too many people the fixers got to reach."

NU FALLS TO CYCLONES

—NORRIS PREVAILS—

Pius X Trips Nebraska City

By STEVE GILLISPIE

Nebraska City — Gordon Thiesfeld's half-court shot at the buzzer was off here Tuesday night to preserve Lincoln Pius X's 55-54 win over Nebraska City in the Class B-1 district basketball tournament.

In the second game, Norris broke away from a 10-9 deficit midway in the first quarter in racing to a 74-53 victory over Falls City.

The unseeded Thunderbolts had Jim Rust try to put the game out of reach with four seconds left, but he missed two free throws to set up Thiesfeld's last-ditch effort.

The Pioneers, seeded third, finished the season with a 8-11 record while coach Don Kelley's Capital City team is now 8-12.

Pius X took the lead and never trailed in the game but had to fight off a strong Nebraska City rally in the fourth quarter.

The Pioneers scored five consecutive points to pull to a 52-50 deficit with 2:09 left.

However, the "Bolts" Artie Aksamit scored what proved to be the winning points with a field goal with 1:49 remaining and a free throw with 1:18 to go.

"We knew Nebraska City would attempt a comeback in the last quarter because they're a good team," Kelley said.

"We probably played to conservatively after we had a ten-point lead at the end of the third quarter."

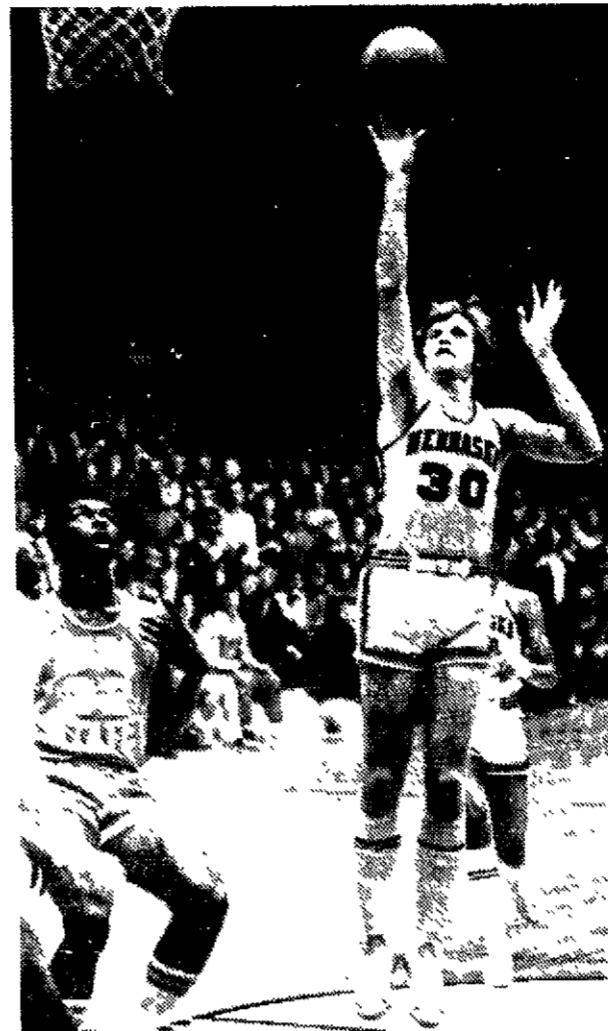

Moore thought his team was "too tight early in the game. We weren't relaxed until the fourth quarter," he noted.

"Since our press bothered Pius X, maybe we should have started it earlier, but we didn't know if our players were relaxed enough to properly run the press."

Second-seeded Norris, now 13-7, will meet Pius X at 8:15 Thursday, while Plattsmouth and Auburn play at 6:45 in the semifinals.

Falls City finished the season with a 2-16 record.

Cage History Favors City District Winner

BY RANDY YORK
Prep Sports Writer

How much does a district basketball championship mean in Lincoln?

Taking the last seven years into consideration, it means a lot.

For in six of those seven years, the Lincoln district winner has emerged either state Class A champion or runnerup.

Northeast, which started a string of six straight district titles in 1965, made the most of them. After a 1966 runnerup finish, coach Ed Johnson's Rockets won state titles in 1967, '68 and '70.

East extended the district prestige with a 1971 state championship, followed by a runnerup finish to Columbus last March.

There are no guarantees, but the Lincoln district title seems to indicate a high state tournament finish.

Second-ranked Northeast and fourth-ranked East, first round opponents Wednesday night at Pershing Auditorium, will go into battle with that fact firmly in mind.

But a wary eye is being cast on the other first round matchup, eighth-ranked Lincoln High and previously-rated Southeast, who'll battle Thursday night.

It's been a decade since either one of those clubs has advanced to the state tournament. Aldy Johnson, who coached a pair of state Class B championships teams at Minden in 1955 & '58, last had a state Class A tournament entry in 1963.

It's been an even longer drought for Southeast. The Knights last played in the state tournament in 1960 when they finished runnerup to Omaha South, the last Class A basketball team to finish a season unbeaten.

Games both Wednesday and Thursday are 7:30 p.m. affairs. Saturday's championship is also set for 7:30 p.m.

Pershing Auditorium officials have added extra seating on the stage for the events, all of which are expected to draw sellout crowds.

Virgil Horne, district tournament director, has indicated that doors will open at 6 p.m. for cheerleaders, pep club and band members of the participating schools.

Doors will open at 6:15 p.m. to the general public. Lincoln's district champions since the Nebraska School Activities

Association eliminated Class AA from the format.

Cipriano Cites NU's Poise

...CYCLONES PREVAIL, 82-76

By MARK GORDON
Star Sports Writer

As the saying goes, when you're hot, you're hot.

"They had the hot hand, and when they . . . or anybody . . . has that hot a hand, it's going to be tough to beat them," said Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano after Iowa State tripped the Huskers, 82-76, Tuesday night at the NU Coliseum.

The statistics easily give creditability to Cipriano's analysis. The Cyclones, in constructing a 44-40 halftime lead fired a blazing 60.6 per cent from the field (20-33) and finished with a fine 54 per cent (34-63).

But NU made a gallant run at the Cyclones, who downed the Huskers for the third time this season.

After trailing 7-0 at the outset and, by as many as 11 points on two first-half occasions, Nebraska assumed its first lead with 6:33 to play as freshman Ricky Marsh rifled in a 20-foot basket to give NU a 70-69 margin.

Following a long-range basket by Eric Heft, Jerry Fort hit a 20-footer to give NU a 72-71 lead. But that's where the NU attack bogged down.

The Huskers were unable to hit a basket until a meaningless basket with two seconds left by Marsh. In that period, Iowa State forged an 82-74 lead.

"We made a good comeback and showed a lot of poise," Cipriano said. "We showed some of the poise that we've had on the road and the 76 points showed that we played together as a team."

Although Cipriano said a few key baskets at the end would have projected Nebraska into "a position we would have liked," he added that the Huskers did all that they were asked.

"It's one of those games you couldn't ask for any more from them," he said. "But when the ball's not going to drop there's not much you can do about it and that's the difference between if you win or if you lose."

Cipriano refused to answer questions as to the effect Lee Harris' departure had on the Huskers.

Cipriano praised sophomore Steve Erwin, who was assigned the second-half task of stopping Clint Harris. Harris, ISU's top

UCLA Tops UPI Ratings

New York (UPI) — When you're No. 2, you're supposed to try harder, but it doesn't help any knowing there's very little chance of overhauling No. 1 on your own.

North Carolina State has been the bridesmaid to UCLA for seven consecutive weeks, and both have compiled 23-0 records thus far this season. But the Wolfpack has been barred from post-season competition for this year by the NCAA because of recruiting violations, so State's only hope to make the No. 1 spot rests on the slight possibility that the Bruins might lose one of their three remaining games — all home contests for the Uclans — a not-too-likely occurrence.

secret with 20 points, had 18 at halftime.

"He's a good shooter," Erwin said. "We went to a box-and-one and I was supposed to go man-on-man while the rest of the team played a 2-2 zone defense and I tried to cover him. He's pretty good."

Fort, who took game scoring honors with 24 points, said he was incensed over Mike Capobianco's "showoff" tactics at the end when it was obvious the Cyclones were winners.

"That's why I got that flagrant foul. He was really pouring it on just like he did at Ames when we got behind. Fort said of his intentional foul with eight seconds to play.

Harris Quits NU Cage Club

Lee Harris, one of three Nebraska basketball players scheduled to make their final appearance as Husker cagers on the NU Coliseum floor Tuesday night, has quit the team, NU coach Joe Cipriano revealed Tuesday afternoon.

Appearing at a news conference in NU sports information director Don Bryant's office only a few hours before his team was to go against Iowa State in the season's home finale, Cipriano said he had neither seen nor heard from Harris since Sunday.

"He was having a subpar practice Sunday and I suggested that he might as well sit down," Cipriano explained. "And he did."

"Then I suggested he might as well take a shower if he wanted to and he did. He cleaned out his locker and turned in his new basketball shoes and was not at practice Monday."

Harris had been a starting forward all season and was the team's second leading scorer averaging 13 points per game.

Husker JVs Fall, 85-75

Despite a 21-point scoring effort by Denver freshman Larry Cox, Nebraska's junior varsity basketball team suffered an 85-75 loss to Iowa Western Tuesday night at the NU Coliseum.

The Iowa club was paced by Ted Thompson, with 20 points, and Ed Landerville, with 19, while the Huskers also received double figure scoring productions from Alan Bluman, with 14 points, Jerry Wissing, with 12, and Will Hudson, with 11.

Coach Lonnie Porter's Nebaskans, now 6-4, travel to Manhattan to meet Kansas State Saturday afternoon.

Allen Collects Highest Salary

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Dick Allen, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1972, signed a three-year contract Tuesday with the Chicago White Sox for an estimated $675,000.

Allen's adviser said, "To our knowledge, it is the largest baseball salary of all time."

The adviser, Stan Bregman of Washington, D.C., said a report that Allen would get $750,000 for three years was inaccurate. If the $675,000 figure is accurate, Allen would surpass Atlanta's Hank Aaron who is in the second year of a three-year agreement estimated at $600,000.

Allen's only comment about the agreement was, "I can't count that high."

He immediately predicted the White Sox would capture a pennant this year. He said, "We will win. I think we can catch Oakland. Ninety-five wins will do it all."

Allen told newsmen that he made up his mind in September to come to spring training this year to help the Sox win a pennant. In 1972, he did not arrive at the spring camp until the season was almost ready to start. He earned a reported $130,000 last year when he slugged 37 homers, batted in 118 runs and hit .308.

Peru Matmen Trip Wesleyan

Peru State edged Nebraska Wesleyan at Ira J. Taylor Gym Tuesday night, 26-14, in a dual wrestling meet.

Willie Sapp pushed his career record to 55-1-1 with a 15-7 decision over Peru's Larry Pracht.

Allen's career in 1964 with the Philadelphia Phillies. He later was traded to St. Louis, then to the Los Angeles Dodgers before he was acquired by the White Sox last year.

Allen has credited his success in 1972 to Tanner's decision to let Allen do almost as he pleased. Allen has often been quoted as saying, "All any manager has to do to get along with me is show me what he wants done and then let me alone."

Allen was fined in other cities for various breaches of discipline, mostly missing curfews. There were no such problems with the White Sox last year.

The Sox still have 13 unsigned players but Holcomb said he did not expect problems because of Allen's lucrative contract.

He said he hoped to sign outfielders Carlos May and Ken Henderson quickly.

Ed Hermann, the Sox No. 1 catcher, also signed his 1973 contract Tuesday.

West Joins Lineup Against KC-Omaha

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jerry West, sidelined by a pulled hamstring muscle, suited up Tuesday night for the first time in 10 games as the Los Angeles Lakers met the Kansas City-Omaha Kings at the Forum in a National Basketball Association game.

The superstar guard was not expected to see much, if any, action.

It doesn't amount to much.

Beatrice Downs Islanders

Columbus — Bill Roach hit eight straight points at the start of the second quarter here Tuesday night to lift Beatrice over Grand Island, 64-55, in the Class A-7 district tournament.

Grand Island led, 12-10, early in the second period when Roach, 5-8 senior, piled up 12 points and Beatrice led the rest of the way. Roach finished with 30 points.

Combined with Roach's shooting accuracy at the free throw line was the big difference as the Orangemen hit 20 of 22 free throws all in the final half.

Grand Island finished with a 9-10 record. Beatrice, 12-7, will face the winner of the Columbus-Hastings game Friday at 8 p.m.

Browner Signs Pact With NU

Ross Browner, outstanding lineman for Ohio state champion Warren Western Reserve High School, has signed a letter-of-intent to enroll at Nebraska.

Browner, who is 6-3 and weighs 220, was chosen Northeast Ohio's lineman of the year for his role in Warren Western's 12-0-0 Class AAA championship season.

He also earned all-State and all-America honors and was named to Coach and Athlete Magazine and Sunkist Growers' Super 11.

Peace Ahead For Baseball?

Boston (AP) — The new three-year agreement between baseball players and club owners will provide "three years of peace" to ease the strains between the two sides, baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn said Tuesday.

Kuhn, in Boston to testify before a legislative committee considering bills to legalize sports betting, declined to comment specifically on the agreement announced Monday.

"In the three years of peace achieved by the agreement, we ought to be able to improve the relationship between the clubs and the players," Kuhn told the Associated Press.

He called it, "a fair settlement. I am pleased."

Kuhn Opposes Legal Betting

BOSTON (AP) — Legalized betting on professional sports would help nurture the illegal gambling operated by organized crime, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said Tuesday.

Kuhn told a state legislative committee considering legal betting bills that state sanctioned betting would create many new gamblers, permitting the underworld to "simply find new and better ways to take advantage of the new gamblers and draw them into its net."

In my opinion said Kuhn, "I think it's immoral."

State-operated legal betting, the baseball commissioner said, would be unable to compete with illegal bookies, who can provide "loan shark" credit and other services to entice customers away from legitimate operations.

Furthermore, Kuhn warned, legalized betting would shatter public confidence in the honesty of professional sports and multiply the risk of tampering with the competition.

"If we lost the confidence of the people, the game is certainly not going to survive," he said. He predicted that even the "suspicion" of dishonesty in the conduct of professional sports would drastically cut attendance.

Kuhn's views were challenged by several Massachusetts legislators on the committee, who argued that legalized betting would divert income flowing into organized crime and allow it to be used for beneficial social purposes.

Ex-Bear Sayers Eyes Pro Management Post

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Gale Sayers, the once-great running back of the Chicago Bears, was back on the University of Kansas campus Tuesday and bubbling with enthusiasm over the prospect of a new job he hopes eventually will lead him back into professional football.

Sayers, now assistant to the athletic director at the school where he skyrocketed to all-American fame, said some day he wants to become general manager of a pro football club.

"The administrative end, is my career," said Sayers, an all-pro star five years whose playing days were cut short by a knee injury. "I want to learn all ends of it—budget, personnel, everything."

"No college offers a course that prepares you for this... for being an athletic administrator."

Royals' Kauffman Set For Jury Duty

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The professional baseball players' dispute with club owners appears on the road to settlement, but Ewing Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals of the American League, will be late to spring training anyway.

Kauffman will be answering the civic call of the suburban community of Mission Hills, Kan., to jury duty for criminal cases in Johnson County, Kan., District Court.

Del Rahman's Lisa's Alone and Louise Coatsney's and John Kerber's Joustab! Windy were among the 27 horses that turned in works Sunday morning at Fonner Park. Both of the speedsters were preparing for engagements on the opening weekend of racing, March 2 and 3.

Lisa's Alone has been a pointed for the $3,000 Inaugural Handicap on Friday. The good filly appeared sharp as she worked four furlongs from the gate in 48.3. This was the best work of the season for the distance.

The $3,000 Grassick on Saturday is the rare Joustab! Windy is being readied for his race with excellent success here as a two-year old and three-year old. Now four he was sent four furlongs in 51.2.

Sayers admitted he had been offered other jobs, much more lucrative jobs including coaching in the pro ranks. He didn't elaborate.

"Money was not a factor, not a consideration," Sayers explained. "I made a lot of money in pro football, and I saved a lot of money so I could do this. This is what I wanted for the last three or four years... just as soon as I was through as a player."

"I want to work with young people. I think I can help them."

Congress Eyes Sports Dispute

Washington (AP)—Congress moved Tuesday to involve itself in the running power struggle between the titans of the nation's amateur sports—the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the American Athletic Union.

The House Special Education Committee announced the beginning of hearings next Monday into the jurisdictional dispute between the NCAA and AAU which many believe could threaten the success of a series of basketball games between the United States and Russia this spring.

The NCAA announced last week that college coaches and undergraduates under its jurisdiction would not be permitted to participate in the AAU-sponsored games with the Soviet Olympic basketball team because of the continuing battle between the two amateur federations.

Fonner Entry Deadline Slated

Grand Island—Nominations to the $7,500-added Nebraska Derby and the $5,000-added Expectation Stakes at Fonner Park close on Wednesday.

The first of these is for three year olds and will be run at one mile on April 28 at Fonner Park. The Expectation is for two year olds and will be decided at four furlongs on April 27.

The purse on the Nebraska Derby has been increased from $6,000 to $7,500 and will have an estimated gross value of $13,000. The race is the top offering in Grand Island for three year olds. The nomination fee to the three year old stake is $100.

The nominating fee to the Expectation Stakes has been reduced to $50. In the first two runnings of the Juvenile Stakes the nomination fee was $250. There will be no other fees to be paid until the time of entry.

Kupec Earns Duke Coaching Position

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Dick Kupec, offensive football line coach at East Carolina University the last two years, has been named to the Duke University staff, Coach Mike McGee said Tuesday.

Kupec will join the Duke staff this week and coach the offensive tackles and work with the tight ends.

2 Council Candidates Disapprove Of Radial

Lincoln city council candidates Jack Hunter and John King both expressed their disapproval of the proposed Northeast Radial at a meeting of the Coalition Against the Radial Tuesday night.

Hunter said he had been in favor of the radial until he received several telephone calls in opposition to it. He said that no one who has contacted him has been in favor of the radial.

King told the group that the radial is apparently being put through with no regard for those who are going to be dispossessed.

He said the history of the radial has not been one of equity.

When asked what they would advocate doing with the already acquired land if the radial were halted, both candidates stated they would like to see the area used for low cost housing.

Each candidate felt revenue sharing money should be used toward that end.

Hunter said he would vote against the radial if it were presented to him as a councilman and King also said he would vote against the proposal unless becoming a member of the council were to give him information which is not now available.

Advisory Board Aims Attention Center Plan

The Community Advisory Board took no official action Tuesday night in a meeting to consider a proposed plan to build a juvenile attention center on 11th between South St. and Saratoga Ave.

Twelve board members, including the three Lancaster County Commissioners, discussed the proposal by Board Chairman Robert Colin Sr. to move the center's site from the location approved earlier on the southwest corner of 13th and South.

Architect Bob Dawson of Hemphill, Vierk & Dawson reviewed preliminary sketches of the attention center with the advisory board, which reviewed possible inherent problems in construction and staffing.

County Commissioner Jan Gauger called for a wide input from community organizations in initial planning of the center and in reviewing its ongoing planning, as well as making recommendations for alterations and the overall scope of the project.

Board members stressed their concern for adequate parking facilities, outdoor use areas and accessibility by bus routes for parents of children being detained in the home.

Board members took with them blueprints of the proposed facility and a proposed policy and procedure manual for study and consideration until the board meets again, when it could make recommendations to the County Board.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6, or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
